RADIO LISTENERS ARE TOLD AIR CHAOS TO END

In Ordering Wave Jumpers in United States to Cease Unrecognized Broadcasting New Radio Commission of Republic Helps to Clear the Air for Canadian Stations to Have Full Use of Six Available Channels and Partial Use of Six Others

New York, April 11 (Canadian Press).—Under the caption, "Air Pirates to Walk the Plank," The New York World says: "In ordering forty-two stations to withdraw from broadcast channels which have been assigned to Canada, the United States Radio Commission is not only performing an act of international comity, but is also taking first steps to rid the air of wave jumpers responsible for the present chaos. The air can be cleared only by the elimination of a large number of existing stations, and in all justice the 'pirates' should be the first to walk the plank."

URGE SCHOOL AND HOSPITAL AID FOR WESTERN NATIVES

Parliamentary Committee Would Grant Concessions to British Columbia Tribes

Turn Down Claim For Title to All Lands; Fishing Changes Proposed

Greater educational facilities and more hospital accommodation for British Columbia Indians are favored by a joint committee of the Canadian Senate and the House of Commons, which has been investigating the claims of the natives of this Province, according to Ottawa advices received here today. In addition to these changes, the committee favors the removal of Indian grievances in connection with fishing and hunting in some districts.

LAND CLAIM REJECTED

The Indians' main claim for recognition of their original title to all the land in the Province and for compensation on this basis is not favored by the Parliamentary committee, it is learned. On this account, it is expected, the Indians' demand for the right to hunt and fish on claim to the Imperial Privy Council will not be granted.

Details of the Committee's proposals in connection with educational and hospital accommodation have not been received here yet. This, it is explained, is a matter for the Federal Government, of which the Indians are wards, but questions of hunting and fishing in most cases come under Provincial regulation.

MISSING ALASKA AVIATORS ARE SAFE

Three Men Went Past Destination, Landed in Blizzard and Damaged Plane

Nome, Alaska, April 11.—R. H. Merrill, aviator, and his passengers, Hilkey Robinson and Edgar Broadway, missing since last Wednesday, are alive and well.

Word of their safety has been received here in a radio message sent by Broadway from Candle, a mining town 150 miles northeast of Nome. Soon after the men had hopped off from Nome last Wednesday morning for Candle, Broadway radioed, a blizzard arose. In the storm they passed Candle and landed at Keweenaw, an Eskimo village, sixty-five miles northeast of their destination. The plane was damaged in landing. Broadway made his way to Candle by dog team to report the safety of himself and his companions.

Rescue parties, with dog teams, had been criss-crossing the country between Nome and Candle since last Thursday in an effort to locate the missing men.

Robinson is a merchant of Candle and Broadway is a Nome mining man. Merrill, who headquarters are in Anchorage, flew to Nome last week en route to St. Lawrence Island, from where he was to have taken David Sepilla, a wealthy Eskimo, to Nome for medical attention.

The flight to St. Lawrence was halted here when Sepilla died.

OUTLINES NEW TAXATION PLANNED IN GREAT BRITAIN

RT. HON. WINSTON CHURCHILL
Chancellor of the Exchequer

BRITAIN IS TO CUT OUTLAYS BY REDUCING THE CIVIL SERVICE

Delivering Budget Speech, Churchill Tells of Economies Planned by Government

Deficit For Coming Year is Estimated at Total of £21,540,000

London, April 11.—The "mystery budget," covering the fiscal year 1927-28, was laid before a crowded and expectant House of Commons this afternoon by Right Hon. Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer. Mr. Churchill delivered the exposition of national finances, which is the custom upon introduction of the budget. He blamed the deficit of nearly £27,000,000 during the present fiscal year on the general strike and the prolonged coal strike of last year.

TO PAY BILL
"This is not a time to bewail the past," declared the Chancellor of the Exchequer, "but to pay the bill. It is not for me to apportion the blame, but only to apportion the burden. I can not present myself in the guise of an impartial judge. I am only the public executioner."

Despite the strikes, he continued, the country's revenue had survived the shock and British exchange had stood like a rock. He said he did not intend to renew the credits obtained in the United States upon their expiration next month.

Estimated expenditures during the 1927-28 budget year were stated to be £318,390,000.

FINANCIAL CENTRE

Discussing future revenue prospects, Mr. Churchill said, that apart from any unexpected developments in China, the estimates contained in the budget were likely to be solidly maintained. He asserted:

"We will maintain our position as the financial centre of the world and economic position is unimpaired."
The Chancellor made the cryptic statement that "for the moment" he was allowing in the estimated expenditures for the payment to the ship's members of the statutory amount of £50,000,000. There had been much speculation over whether he would raise the sinking fund to make up the present year's deficit.

TO CUT EXPENDITURES

Explaining demands made for a £40,000,000 cut in the national expenditures, Mr. Churchill said that to cut the fighting services by £20,000,000 would cause a panic. To cut the expenditures on education or health would cause a convulsion.

To effect economies he proposed to abolish the Transport Ministry, the Mines Department and the Overseas Trade Department. There also would be a marked reduction in the number of new entrants to the civil service.

GREAT TOTAL
London, April 11.—Another $4,000,000,000 budget covering the fiscal year 1927-28 was introduced in the House of Commons today by Right Hon. Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

125 ANIMALS ON FARM BURNED

Port Coquitlam, B.C., April 11.—Four horses, twenty-five head of cattle and sixty hogs perished early today in a fire that destroyed all the outbuildings on a 700-acre farm five miles from here in the Pitt River Valley. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

The ranch, owned by Mrs. G. M. Annable, was sold recently to a colony of Italians, but had not been taken over by them.

THOUSANDS LINE STREETS TO SEE LARGEST CHURCH PARADE SINCE DAYS OF WAR

Victoria turned out en masse yesterday afternoon to witness the biggest garrison church parade staged since the days of the Great War. Hundreds of cars and thousands of people lined the route of the parade, while at Beacon Hill, where services were held, the great crowd was considerably added to. The procession included the Royal Canadian Navy, the active and reserve militia, including the reserve of officers, with war veterans in the rear. It was the most colorful parade of military and naval units seen in Victoria for many years.

The parade, led by General J. M. Ross, G.C.M.G., D.S.O., officer commanding Military District No. 11, left the Armories at 2:30 o'clock and proceeded along Douglas Street as far as Michigan, thence by Park Road to the football field east of Beacon Hill.

The order of the march was as follows: General J. M. Ross, C.M.G., D.S.O., officer commanding Military District No. 11, accompanied by senior naval officer, staff officers and heads of departments of district headquarters, Royal Canadian Navy and reserve of officers; Royal Canadian Navy; Sea Cadets band; Sea Cadets; No. 5 Heavy Battery, R.C.A.; Fifth Regiment Band; Fifth B.C. Coast Brigade; No. 11 Detachment R.C.E.; No. 11 (Portress) Signal Company; "B" Company; British Pats Canadian Light Infantry; Canadian Scottish Pipe Band; Canadian Scottish Band; Canadian Scottish Regiment; R.C.M.C.; No. 11 Detachment R.C.A.P.C.; Juvenile Pipe Band and ex-service organizations.

SERVICE AT BEACON HILL

Service at Beacon Hill was started with the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers," following which the lesson was read by Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson. The whole community then joined in the singing of "Forever With the Lord." Prayers were offered up by Rev. W. A. Guy. Following the singing of "Nearer My God to Thee," an address was delivered by Rev. William Barton, Hon. Major Chaplain in 5th B.C. Coast Brigade, C.A.

The programme was brought to a conclusion with the singing of "O God Our Help in Ages Past," and God Save the King.

On completion of services the units formed into march form again (Continued on page 12)

STOWAWAY ON DOLLAR LINER JUMPS TO SEA

Russian Crawls Through Porthole at William Head But Shouts For Help

Dragging himself and a lifebelt through one of the portholes of the S.S. President Cleveland, a Russian stowaway attempted to escape from the vessel while it lay at anchor at William Head quarantine station early this morning.

The stowaway, along with two others who had attempted to make a free passage on the Cleveland, was locked up after being discovered trying to escape.

CRY FOR HELP
A cry for help, uttered in a foreign accent, was the first intimation to the ship's members of the attempted escape. The swift but continuing running past the Head was carrying the stowaway out to sea. Having given away his intention to escape by the cry, he was taken out of the water by a small craft from the quarantine station and taken back to the Cleveland. He was nearly blue with cold when taken from the water, the temperature of which was about forty-six degrees.

Customs and immigration men and members of the ship's crew are still trying to figure out how the stowaway managed to make his exit by the porthole. He was not a small man and in addition to this he was wearing a lifebelt when picked up. The two other Russians found on board were under lock and key when the vessel arrived here. They were discovered after the vessel was taken to the dock at the William Head quarantine station two days out. All three were taken to Seattle and will be deported on the President Lincoln which sails tomorrow.

Auto Touring in B.C. Steadily Grows

New Westminster, April 11.—The number of automobiles which entered British Columbia at all points during the year ended March 31 last showed an increase of nearly 45,000 over the previous year, according to Government reports.

During that period, 734,524 cars entered and 722,542 recorded outward. During 1925-26 the movement was 689,745 inward and 670,435 outward.

GREAT FUTURE FOR CANADIAN-CHINESE TRADE PREDICTED

Lord Willingdon Tells Vancouver Audience Peace Will Bring Growth

Vancouver, April 11.—Declaring himself a confirmed optimist regarding the future of Canada, Lord Willingdon addressed a luncheon of the Vancouver Canadian Club today.

He broke somewhat new ground for a Governor-General in that he referred to conditions in China and showed he was alive to the possibilities of increasing commerce between Canada and the Far Eastern republic.

Last year Lord Willingdon visited China as head of a commission investigating the disposal of the Boxer indemnity fund and the result of his observations, as given to the Canadian Club, here, indicated an outlet on the future situation more optimistic than that generally shared.

Lord Willingdon is convinced sound opinion in China is not anti-foreign, and that it realizes the great powers are anxious China should progress.

PEACE DESIRED

"Certain propaganda in China have endeavored, and to some extent succeeded, to stir up anti-foreign feeling among the Chinese people by talking of the imperialistic tendencies of the foreign powers there. From my experience there I can very honestly say I don't believe there is a single honest and fair-minded Chinese (and I found a great many) who thinks any of the powers has any imperialistic outlook with regard to their country at all. They all know well that the sole desire of all the great powers is to see peace come to their distracted country and to help, if the Chinese want help, to progress."

DEPUTY SPEAKER IS UPHELD ON RULING

In Commons Woodsworth Objected to Remarks by Edwards; no Withdrawal

Ottawa, April 11.—The Commons divided this afternoon on whether or not a ruling of Deputy Speaker J. F. Johnson should be sustained. It arose during a speech by Hon. J. W. Edwards, Conservative, Frontenac, Ont., in which he latter was dealing with an address made by J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Winnipeg. He said Mr. Woodsworth had indicated revolutionary methods might be necessary to obtain certain changes.

Mr. Woodsworth denied he had made such a statement, and called for a retraction. The Deputy Speaker ruled this denial by Mr. Woodsworth was not of a nature which would compel Dr. Edwards to withdraw his remarks.

Mr. Woodsworth's appeal against the ruling immediately.

The Deputy Speaker was sustained 124 to 28. The Progressives, Labor members and Independents and several of the Liberals voted against the ruling. The Conservatives and the majority of the Liberals voted to sustain the Deputy Speaker.

CHINA DESIRES TO AVOID BLOODSHED

Have Mightiest Weapon in Boycott, Says Sten Bugge, Norwegian

All Foreigners May be Driven Out if Economic War Continues

China will clash with the foreign powers whose interests are vested within her borders, but she does not expect to drive them out by force of arms, according to Sten Bugge, Norwegian business man, who has spent seventeen years in the province of Hunan. Mr. Bugge, who has seen the whole of the Chinese trouble from the beginning and witnessed the evolution of 1911, was a passenger on the President Cleveland reaching Victoria this morning.

He has made a close study of economic conditions in China ever since and foresees disturbances of a more or less serious nature, but which will not necessarily be fraught with bloodshed, he stated to The Times today.

FRIEND WAS KILLED

Mr. Bugge of all men who have passed through this port from the Far East, has great reason to be embittered against the Chinese. He has seen his friends' business interests destroyed and his sister, and her little children who were aboard the ship with him to-day, driven from Chengsha. He lost his great friend, Dr. Williams, who was killed by Chinese soldiers at Nanking.

His sister, Mrs. Margaret Hanstean, with her two little children, was the last married woman to leave Chengsha. Mr. Bugge stated, she left because there was danger there, although it was not immediate. Her husband had remained. He himself was going back as soon as his father's health improved. He was convinced, however, that sooner or later practically all foreigners would be driven out of Hunan Province and out of the rest of China; if the economic war being waged against them continues.

MAN INJURED AS SOOKE HOME BURNS

John Muir Rushed to Hospital Following Sunday Blaze

Special to The Times
Sooke, April 11.—John Muir was badly burned about the head, arms and legs, when his home was completely destroyed by fire, at an early hour on Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Hooke who fortunately are early risers, were attracted by cries for help, and on seeing the smoke, H. Hooke woke the men at the Sooke Harbor Fishing and Packing Company, whilst his wife ran on to find Mr. Muir in the garden badly burned and his wife and daughter in their night attire, the house burning so quickly that they only just had time to escape the flames. When friends and neighbors arrived on the scene it was too late to save any effects—owing to the fierceness of the blaze although many attempts were made. H. Hooke for some time working above with the garden hose. Mr. Muir was helped to the home of P. Grainger, where first aid was rendered until the arrival of Dr. Calvert who was fetched by H. Milne. He was then rushed in to St. Joseph's Hospital by W. Dicks in P. Grainger's car, accompanied by his wife and brother, Curtis.

Mr. Muir is one of the oldest residents in Sooke, his father being one of the earliest settlers, buying their property from Captain Grant who took up the whole of Sooke in 1851. Much anxiety is felt by his many friends and much sympathy expressed for the family. Mrs. Muir was also burned about the hands trying to tear off her husband's clothes.

U.S. ANTI-LIQUOR TREATIES UPHELD

Washington, April 11.—Treaties negotiated with foreign governments to aid prohibition enforcement were in effect sustained today by the Supreme Court of the United States. The court held to be valid the action brought by the Government in Federal district courts against crews of vessel seized under the treaties.

The contention of the Government that Federal district courts had jurisdiction to punish offenses under the treaties committed on the high seas outside the territorial limits of the United States, was upheld.

The opinion was rendered in the case of the Canadian steamer Quivira, seized off the California coast by a revenue cutter in October, 1924.

RATEPAYERS WILL VOTE ON C.N.R. DOCKS GRAN STORAGE PROJECT SOON

City Guaranteed Minimum of $125,000 for Use of Credit in Guaranteeing $500,000 Serial Bond Issue by Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Limited; City to Market Bonds and Make Payments Only on Certificates by Its Own Engineer During Construction

Negotiations between the Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Limited and the City of Victoria, looking to a start by May 1 on a 1,000,000 bushel capacity elevator at Ogden Point will be laid before the City Council to-night for endorsement before going to the ratepayers.

The proposals include a bond issue by the company in serial bonds to the extent of $500,000, which would be marketed by the city. The company would make capital and interest payments semi-annually to the city, which would in turn release a due proportion of the money raised by the sale of the company's bonds on the certificates of its own engineer during the various stages of construction. No portion of the levy would fall on the ratepayers.

as the bonds are to be issued in the name of the Panama Pacific Grain Terminals Limited, and repaid by that organization under city supervision.

POWERS' NOTE TO CANTONESE GIVES DEMANDS

Shanghai, April 11.—The Consul-General of Great Britain, the United States, France, Japan and Italy today presented a note to the Cantonese containing three demands in consequence of the anti-foreign rioting at Nanking on March 24.

The elements of the contract have been agreed upon by J. A. Mooney, president of the Panama Pacific Interests, and the industrial committee of the City Council, and await only council endorsement before being submitted to the ratepayers on a referendum.

In a statement to-day Mayor J. C. Pendray said the city would put its own engineer on the job of supervising the work in the city's interest. Having in mind E. D. Cassidy, elevator engineer long associated with Barrett and Cassidy, elevator builders. The city would make it necessary to pass from the sale of the Panama Pacific bonds to the company as the work progressed, on certificates from the city's clerk of the works.

LEASE OF SITE SECURED

The lease of the site has already been secured for the company from the Federal Government, including an area of approximately the entire northern half of Pier 3, Ogden Point, at a favorable rental. Plans for the million bushels elevator have been prepared by C. T. Metcalf, noted designer, and work would start on May 1, or earlier if actually known. The elevator would be built in time to handle the 1927 grain crop, it is stated.

CANTONESE FORCES SUFFER REVERSES

Reports From China Say Troops in Some Fields Are Retreating

London, April 11.—All reports from China to-day agree the Cantonese armies, which recently captured strategic points in the Northern Chinese forces, have suffered reverses and are in retreat at some places. One dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph says the Cantonese have evacuated Chinkiang, on the southern bank of the Yangtze River, forty-two miles east of Nanking, and are in disorderly retreat in the direction of Shanghai. The reports are conflicting and at points removed from the scene of operations.

SPEECH BY GEDDES BRINGS CRITICISM

Westminster Gazette Says Ex-Ambassador, Speaking of China, Attacked U.S.

London, April 11.—Sir Auckland Geddes, former British Ambassador to the United States, whose speech at Westminster yesterday was criticized in an editorial in The Westminster Gazette to-day as "a callous and mischievous utterance" on the "United States," was not at all disturbed by the criticism when it was called to his attention.

"Whenever I say anything about the United States," he declared, "people put their own complexion on my words. Nobody reading the actual words I said could properly assume I was attacking the United States. My words were: 'We have to realize there are in China a large number of American students. They have gone back to repeat some of the shibboleths they heard in the United States about British dealings and British imperialism and have become leaders in the anti-British movement there.' That is a fact."

OLD STUDENTS TALK ON ANNIVERSARY OF SCHOOL'S FOUNDING

J. C. Newbury First Head Student at Anniversary Celebrations

B. C. Nicholas Tells History of Victoria High School From 1876

Ex-students of every year, from the very first class ever to sit under the name of Victoria High School in 1876, to the graduates of to-day, attended the fiftieth anniversary celebrations of what is known to be the greatest high school in British Columbia, and heard a programme of interesting addresses in its auditorium Saturday night.

It was a large and enthusiastic gathering. Contemporaries of both old and young graduates took the platform in the course of the evening.

Referring to the dreams of the founders of the Victoria High School, Mr. Dilworth, principal of the institution, hoped that these had been realized. He said, that the growth and expansion they foresaw had been achieved, or at least that the school was well on its way to the goal which they anticipated. Only time would tell, he said.

"We must not congratulate ourselves," Mr. Dilworth went on, "for we, in this generation, merely build upon the foundation laid down for us."

FIRST HEAD STUDENT

Mr. Dilworth called upon John C. Newbury, first head student of the school, who topped the list of pupils at examination in 1876.

Mr. Newbury called attention to the mottoes contained in the original reports issued by the school, monthly. Some of these were: "Neglected Opportunities Can Never Be Recalled"; "No Pains, No Gains"; "Do Your Duty," and so on.

When he went to school, said Mr. Newbury, he remembered one teacher, the second principal of the institution, who played a harmonium. That was Mr. Pope, he said, a man who endeared himself to the students by his power of recitation.

NEED RELIGION

Mr. Newbury suggested that since religious study had been banned from the schools for fifty years, it was now time that something of the kind be taught there. He did not suggest religious study, but a little could be done in teaching morality, at least, he thought.

Herbert Kent read some interesting articles which had been written by Mr. Newbury and Alexander Semple for the school paper of that day. The first referred to the visit of Lord Dufferin and the expansion of Esquimalt as a seaport, the rivaling San Francisco. Mr. Kent was a fellow student with Mr. Newbury and ran him a close second in the race for the first Governor-General's medal awarded in the first year of the high school's life.

SCHOOL'S HISTORY

B. C. Nicholas, another old student and graduate of the school, traced briefly the history of the institution, running over the list of principals and giving a short verbal portrayal of each one. In the first school where these men taught, he said, built by the Hudson's Bay Company in 1851 or 1852, was a class of students which had attained success in diversified walks of life and had done credit to their school, as hundreds had done since.

The speaker paid high tribute to Dr. E. B. Paul, for sixteen years a principal of the school. He complimented too, Miss Agnes Deans Cameron, a woman who had taught him at school, and who was well known to thousands and remembered with honor.

Mr. Nicholas referred to the sterling qualities of the students and master of the school had played in the Great War. They had done credit to their country and had added to the fame of their institution, he said.

The high school, he said, had long supplied the public schools of Victoria with teaching talent, and in many eminent men and women had received their early training, to rise later to great heights.

Dr. E. B. Paul, ex-principal, now head of the Victoria College, a man who has seen long and outstanding service in British Columbia, as a teacher, said that it was a happy time to remember how old students and teachers had always helped and co-operated with him. It had made his late years very happy ones, he asserted.

Mr. Nicholas read the following list of principals since the High School opened:

PRINCIPALS

HEAD STUDENTS

He also read the following list of head students from the time that J. C. Newbury first led a High School class:

J. C. Newbury, Thomas Baker, H. C. Carey, Charles Hayward, J. B. Carmichael, Charles Gardiner, W. W. Halliday, R. C. Fawcett, Samuel Schultz, Christian Forrest, Abbie F. Gardiner, W. F. C. Pop, John C. Boyd, A. E. Haynes, Francis B. Gibbs, Jeanette Mebus, Ernest A. Powell, Francis Nicholson, Pauline Frank, Miriam Frank, Edith M. S. Shrapnel, Frances Ann Brown, Leonard Sprague, W. Evelyn Marchant, Dorothy Allison, Fanny Forbes Whyte, Catherine Chapman, Lillian M. Mowatt, May Gertrude Tully, Winifred M. Johnson, S. D. H. Pope, Kathleen Cockrell, A. Nelson King, Rena F. F. Chandler, Jean Robinson, Thomas Norris, Henry L. Robinson, D. Colquhoun Holmes, Florence N. Renny, John C. Stevenson, Robert S. O'Meara, A. Lincoln Marshall, Nina Ethel Hannah Brown, Marjorie Emma Waites, M. Ridgley, Douglas A. Wallace, Victor E. Hall, Ursula Edwards, George W. Allen, Edith E. Lucas, Frank Rendle, Alice Jean Eldridge, Mary Evelyn Wheeler, Herbert Wheeler.

EARLY DIFFICULTIES

Dr. Paul recalled the early difficulties which the school encountered in the lack of space, and the apathy of teachers. But despite the difficulties under which they worked they achieved a fair success, he believed.

That was before there were specialists in the work of teaching, and when a man in charge of a class taught everything from Latin to geography.

Dr. Paul complimented the city of Victoria in having for its School Board head a man of the calibre of George Jay who had done so much for the schools of Victoria.

Mr. Jay was then called upon for a few remarks. Although, he said, he had been fortunate enough to live in Victoria for five or six years, he had never attended the Victoria High School. The nearest he came to that institution was when he was a pupil at the Boys' Central School in 1873 or 1874. That was before there was a high school.

Mr. Jay said that he had been elected to the School Board in 1901 and had remained a member of it ever since, for many years having been its chairman.

BANQUET HELD

Many old students and teachers sat down to the banquet which was served before the commencement of the programme. Girls of the High School waited on the laden tables. Nearly 150 persons were present.

Miss Gladys Shrapnel, violinist of note, played a beautiful old masterpiece; Miss Nancy Ferguson gave a pretty solo dance; Miss Walter sang in old-fashioned costume, charming song numbers and Miss Ella Pottinger recited, and introduced steps of the minuet.

The costume parade showing the fashions of the past as far back as 1850, in which High School students participated, was a particularly interesting spectacle.

There were dancing and refreshments afterwards.

SOVIET SAYS POLICY TOWARD CHINA IS BASED ON PEACE

Rykoff Declares Powers Should Not Mistake it For One of Weakness

Moscow, April 11.—The declaration that Soviet Russia's policy in the present diplomatic controversy with Peking is one of peace, but that the powers should not mistake it for one of weakness, was made last night by Alexis Rykoff, President of the Council of Commissars, at the opening of the All-Russian Conference of Soviets.

The Chinese situation held the attention of the conference almost immediately after the preliminary organization had been completed.

M. Rykoff outlined to the 1,402 delegates present the main lines of the Eastern situation, but declared the policy of the Soviet Government was strictly one of peace. This statement was greeted with prolonged applause.

The foreign powers, he said, knew war between Russia and China would mean the failure of the Chinese revolution, since the latter was based on friendship for Russia, and that hence the recent acts of provocation were intended to precipitate a conflict.

SELF-RESTRAINT

"I declare, however," he said, "that we have had enough experience in running in the past ten years not to permit ourselves to be tricked by such unprecedented provocation. But I warn the powers they must not regard our peace policy as a sign of weakness."

M. Rykoff also read what he described as a Chinese official order to the secret police directing them to find incriminating evidence during the Peking raid event if it was necessary to secure it from the police archives.

His declaration that Soviet Russia did not have a single soldier on Chinese territory drew applause.

Langford

Langford, April 11.—Mrs. Arthur Kay and her two sons, Gerald and Hume, who have been spending the winter at St. John, Langford Lake, have left to reside at Crofton.

At the tennis committee meeting held on Friday night at the home of the president, J. Stuart Yates, Miss Nellie Wilson was elected secretary-treasurer in place of Miss K. Bayles, who resigned for lack of time. Cyril Wilkinson also resigned from his appointment of groundsman for the same reason. A vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Ernest Le Queux for holding a silver tea in aid of the funds. It is hoped to have the court ready for play at the end of May. A general meeting for old and new members will be held on May 15. Refreshments were kindly served to the meeting by Mrs. J. Stuart Yates.

A bee will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to clean the windows of St. Matthew's Church. All members of the guild are requested to assist in the necessary work.

Dear Sir,

I, the undersigned, am sending you this unsolicited testimonial of the great benefits I have derived from the use of your I-ON-A-CO Belt, for the benefit of those who may be suffering from the same complaint as I had. You may use this testimonial as you see fit.

Since last September I have been a constant sufferer with a gastric stomach and the excruciating pains I endured were something terrific, especially after eating. My meals were of the starvation brand, consisting of whole wheat bread, lettuce and water. But to no avail.

But on accepting your free, three ten-minute treatments, I can truthfully say I got great relief. After twelve treatments my ailment has vanished and I can now eat a hearty meal with no ill results. Thank goodness for your wonderful belt.

Yours faithfully,

FARMERS ACTIVE WITH SPRING WORK

Indications Point to Big Increase in Acreage Under Cultivation

Winnipeg, April 11.—The annual spring activities of the farmers in Western Canada is about to begin. Machinery and equipment for the land operations has been put into condition and all that is now required is favorable weather. In some parts of Alberta and the southwest portion of Saskatchewan seeding and ploughing is under way, but a general movement is not expected for at least another week. Alberta continues to enjoy moderate temperatures and drying winds. In most sections of the province the frost is out of the ground to a depth of nearly a foot. The top soil has been left soggy in most places and the 1927 crop will go into the soil bed not lacking in moisture.

While there is no definite means of ascertaining the acreage that will be under cultivation this year, indications point to a big increase. New land has been broken in all three prairie provinces and the steady influx of settlers has given assurance of sufficient man power to handle the large crop acreage. Feeding conditions are fairly satisfactory despite the long winter. END OF SESSION IN OTTAWA IS NEAR Ottawa, April 11.—A substantial block of estimates and a few minor government bills comprise the remaining business before the House of Commons. In the Senate nearly all the important measures have been reported from the standing committees and now await third reading. Prorogation has been agreed upon for the middle of the week and some members are already leaving the capital, feeling the session will be concluded without any unusual features. It has been slightly more than a two-month session—the shortest since before the World War. In Government circles, following the session, plans will be formulated for the conference to be held in the fall between the provinces and the Dominion Federal Government. It is expected all the provincial Premiers will be present. With the winding-up of the session the interest of the Opposition will turn to the Conservative national convention to be held in Winnipeg in October for the purpose of selecting a leader. It is of unusual interest as it is the first occasion a national convention of this character has been called by the party. A. W. McCUNE FUNERAL Nelson, April 11.—The body of A. W. McCune, multi-millionaire Kootenay mine operator, who died at Canby, Idaho, recently, is due to reach New York to-day on the liner Adriatic, accompanied by members of the family, according to word received here. Interment will be in Salt Lake City.

PAGES FROM CANADIAN HISTORY

At last, on November 7th, 1885, upwards of five years before the expiry of the time allowed by the terms of the contract, the railway was finished. "If," it has been picturesquely written, "an inquisitive eagle, soaring above the lonely crags of the Rocky Mountains on November 7th, 1885, had looked down upon a certain spot near the Columbia River and about 550 miles from Vancouver, it would have seen a very unusual cover. A railway train had come to a standstill. A railway train had come to a standstill at this spot to allow a number of gentlemen to alight, and these surrounded by a great concourse of working men, had gathered together to see one among them perform an action apparently simple and uninteresting. At the side of one of the shining rails was an iron plate with a hole in it, and through this hole a spike had to be driven which would fasten it firmly to the wooden sleeper. "Surely it was not necessary, you will say, for all these gentlemen to come from a distance to do what any one of the stalwart workmen could have done with the greatest ease! Ah, but it was a very special spike, the last of millions that had been driven in the course of constructing a railway which was to join the town of Montreal with the Pacific Ocean. No bright flags waved in that lonely valley; there were no trumpets to sound a fanfare of triumph. Yet the consummation of a gigantic undertaking was being celebrated. As the vigorous blows from the hammer rang out, it did not seem an exaggeration to say that they echoed through the British Empire. As someone picturesquely wrote: "The shippers of Victoria, British Columbia, heard them and knew that they meant an increase in the carriage of merchandise through their town to and from Japan, because the railway would lessen the distance between London and Yokohama by many hundreds

PAGES FROM CANADIAN HISTORY

The text in the book reproduced above is from "The Life of Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal," by Beckles Willton, Cassell & Company Limited, London.

CRAIGELLACHIE—Symbol and slogan of romance and achievement, of stubborn fight and ultimate victory. As Sir Donald Smith, afterwards Lord Strathcona, drove the iron spike that linked the rails from Atlantic and Pacific, he symbolized the spirit of an old Scottish chieftain. The clans of the indomitable MacKenzies, McTavishes, Stuarts and McGillivrays; the Frasers, Finlaysons, McLeods and McLauchlins, with all their fighting traditions, seemed to "stand fast" behind him as his blows resounded through the solemn mountain pass.

Craigellachie, the name of the station near which the last spike was driven, is named after one of the wildest and loveliest of the glens of Scotland and "Stand fast Craig Ellachie," the historic battlecry of this clan, was the message cabled by George Stephen (Lord Mount Stephen) to his fellow directors in one of the financial crises of the railway's early history.

What wonder that Great Britain's Queen that night cabled her congratulations on the completion of a work which Her Majesty regarded as "of great importance to the whole British Empire."

The task of driving this final spike was allotted to Lord Strathcona, as a tribute to his faith and his loyalty to the vision of a great transcontinental railway. Had he not poured his personal wealth into the undertaking when the Government assistance had proved inadequate?

His spirit, and the ideals of those other Titans with whom he was associated, are alive today in the hearts of his successors, who likewise cherish high aspirations for the world mission of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

OUR FLOWERS

THOSE WHO VISITED THE FLOWER show at the Willows last week must have been impressed by the variety and quality of the display. The exhibition was a striking demonstration of what the Island can do in this way. Hearty congratulations are due to those who were responsible for the arrangements as well as to the exhibitors.

British Columbia already has made a name for itself in the production of flowers. Vancouver Island seeds are being regarded by experts as among the finest in the world, sweet pea seeds in particular having made a splendid reputation, indicating a growing and profitable industry. In the not distant future, moreover, this Province, especially the Island and coast sections, should be able to produce bulbs that will compete successfully with the imported article.

It is interesting to note that Canada's Diamond Jubilee gift to Great Britain will be a mass of one hundred thousand peony blooms. Arrangements have been made for every liner leaving a British port during the month of July to carry a supply of peonies grown in Canada. These will be donated by the Dominion Government. It also is arranged that Canada House in London will be literally full of peonies, while many newspapers throughout the country will be the recipients of gifts of blooms. In fact flowers will be shipped to all who desire and apply for them until the whole supply has been exhausted.

These blooms should be a novel and effective advertisement for Canada as they find their way into homes in all parts of Britain. They should show in a striking way that besides having in parts an invigorating Winter which aids in the production of the world's best wheat, Canada has a Spring and Summer which produce a profusion of flowers as well as other products of the soil. Vancouver Island is particularly well favored in this respect, and in emphasizing this fact the flower show served a useful purpose.

OUR NEIGHBOR'S PROBLEM

MANY PROMINENT UNITED STATES jurists and not a few public men and newspapers in the neighboring republic have been giving a good deal of thought to crime statistics in an effort to find a way to arouse the people to a realization of a situation which is rapidly developing into a national scandal of the first magnitude. Writing in yesterday's issue of The Seattle Post-Intelligencer, Mr. A. C. Backus, for fifteen years a municipal court judge, deals with the general subject of the administration of justice across the border and describes Wisconsin's experience in detail. He says in part:

The United States is classed as having one of the highest crime rates of any civilized country in the world. The annual crime bill of this nation approximates ten billion dollars; $5,000,000,000 represents the value of property stolen through acts of violence or fraud, the remaining $5,000,000,000 is accounted for by the cost of protective and punitive activities, both of which are enormous.

On the human side, the average yearly record of crime is even more appalling. Last year, for instance, 12,000 persons in the United States lost their lives through acts of violence committed by professional criminals in cold blood for personal gain. It is estimated that 1,500,000 persons in the nation are engaged in criminal pursuits. Records show that 700 out of every 1,000 guilty criminals escape punishment. Murder cases for the year of 1926 were: over 3,000,000—342 murders; in Chicago, with population of over 3,000,000—366 murders; in London, with population of over 8,000,000—17 murders; in Milwaukee, with population of over half a million—14 murders. The reason why crime has been reduced to a minimum in London and Milwaukee is because of the speedy trials and swift and certain punishments which follow after a person has been found guilty. In a statement made by the Washington Child, one of the foremost investigators of crime conditions today, he says:

"Delays in criminal cases and punishment are crime breeders of astonishing fecundity." In an interview with a gunman in Chicago he reported: "We do not work in Milwaukee because their courts are too fast for us." He also reports from interviews with judges, prosecutors and police officers of the nearby cities of Milwaukee that: "The swiftness of justice in Wisconsin is the reason that in that state crime waves are unknown."

Common sense and simple justice prevail in Wisconsin. In Milwaukee the court, prosecuting attorney, and the police department co-ordinate and cooperate with a definite purpose to administer justice to the state and the criminal.

From the above comments it will be seen that Chicago easily leads all other cities with its calendar of crime. Nor does there seem any likelihood that conditions there will improve under the administration of its new mayor. It was when "Big Bill" Thompson was chief magistrate before that the unruly elements of that city were allowed to get out of hand and, when that condition develops, it is difficult to correct it. He is now in the saddle again and if his election campaign, with its successful bid for support from a variety of sources, is any indication of what his policy is going to be, there will be still less obstacles in the way of the gangster.

Mr. Thompson not only obtained the support of the deep-dyed and shady elements; his majority over his Democrat opponent was very naturally increased by those who were not voting as much for him as for the party to which he belongs. This was one occasion, however, when blind allegiance might have given way to public interest. It is the election of such men as Thompson, notoriously unscrupulous, as his record shows, which makes effective administration of justice in the United States difficult.

OUR TRADE

OPPONENTS OF THE GOVERNMENT at Ottawa are quoting the increase in the value of Canada's imports and the decrease of her exports during the year which closed at the end of February as an indication that our prosperity is beginning to decline. But this condition is not even as alarming as it may appear at first sight. Take, for instance, the drop in exports. Of the $39,000,000 which represents the decrease over a year ago, $20,500,000 is accounted for by the non-export of Canadian gold, which was held in the Dominion instead. Surely this can not be called an alarming symptom.

In comparing Canada's trade, however, the figures should be taken for a number of years if a fair idea of conditions is to be obtained. The following table is instructive:

Year Ended	Imports	Exports
February
1923	$ 790,032,342	$ 914,433,157
1924	898,338,916	1,029,478,881
1925	799,273,046	1,066,681,325
1926	911,933,055	1,297,866,683
1927	1,021,209,075	1,258,857,309

These statistics show that Canada's export business is quite satisfactory. On the other hand, the fact that her imports increased during the 1926-1927 period is an indication of the buying power of the people—their own and the country's increasing prosperity. Other figures throw a light on this condition. Here is an instructive table of automobile importations:

Year Ended	Freight	Passenger	Auto
February
1925	$1,435,838	$ 8,405,924	$14,744,633
1926	1,771,523	13,223,873	22,064,414
1927	2,948,023	22,331,442	28,625,955

By a very simple process of arithmetic it can be proved from these figures that the importation of motor cars and parts has increased from less than $25,000,000 to practically $54,000,000 in two years. There were 2,321 freight automobiles imported in the year just ended as compared with 936 two years ago, and 27,202 passenger automobiles as compared with 8,540. Then it also should be borne in mind that the doubling in value of imported parts shows that the Canadian motor industry likewise is doing very nicely as well.

Other factors naturally influence importations. Until the figures to which the Government's critics refer are analyzed, to find out especially what increase in the demand for raw materials has had to be satisfied as a result of increasing manufacturing prosperity, a fair comparison is not possible. Employment and other figures, of course, indicate the flourishing state of Canadian industry.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

GALOSHES FOR ROMANCE
From The Portland Oregonian

Galoshes as women wear them came to seem somehow gallant and delightful, and—er—chic, if we may venture on a word rather vague to us. Galoshes for women, and correctly worn, somehow impressed us as romantic and memorable. It was as though McGarg's men had ridden by, or gone tramping past, or as though some ringleted cavalier had laughed and drawn his blade. . . . there where the pistols roared. But, land sakes, it was only the shimmer of a golden compact and the backfiring of a grocer's truck. However, and with the dimness of things not quite grasped, that is how we came to feel about galoshes for women.

Queer Quirks of Nature

By ARTHUR N. PACK

Let us play for a minute that we are the original possessors of the seven-league boots, and with a few hops have dropped in the midst of a blossoming orange grove. There is a weather-beaten house with a pantry window, over whose screen trails a vine. There is a splash of water at the sink inside.

Two fairy-like little creatures raise inquisitive little heads and bright eyes peer from the foliage. They are only about five inches long, these tame and friendly little midges, whose pictures are here shown.

They glide about, occasionally darting out incredibly long tongues to snap up any insect gnats within tongue's reach. An insect so small as to be practically invisible to us is an ample meal for these fairy-like midges.

We must handle them carefully, for their tails, which constitute a goodly portion of them, are brittle that they readily part company with the owner and proprietor.

Scientists now agree that the color variation in these lizards is entirely due to the stimuli of fear, excitement, exhaustion and other such causes.

Through inexpressible small apertures our two pets would glide into the house and chase each other up and down through the tangled mass of the flowered wall paper, as though playing some merry game.

Sometimes the larger of the two would raise his head and proudly exhibit a fan-shaped projection, something like an "adam's apple," which we now know to be the distinctive ornamentation of the gentleman of the reptile, and which he considers adds to his graces in the bright eyes of the little lady whom he is trying to beguile.

This so-called American chameleon (chameleon carolinensis) is smaller and more active than the old world chameleon, and really belongs to a distant branch of the lizard family, the Iguanidae.

A THOUGHT

I know that my Redeemer liveth.—Job, xix, 25.
A perfect faith would lift us absolutely above fear.—George MacDonald.

Do You Mean What You Say?

'SAND BLIND'

"SAND BLIND"

We read and speak of "sand blindness" with an assurance gained from fiction and the moving picture that it is a temporary blindness brought on by the sand storms of the desert regions. The original expression was "samblind" in which "sam" is an Anglo-Saxon prefix meaning "half" akin to "semi." When this prefix became obsolete it became the popular notion that the word for "half blind" was "sand blind" because sand in the eyes will make one half blind. From this conception of sand blindness has arisen such an expression as "blow dust in one's eyes," meaning "to deceive" or "make temporarily blind to another's motive." The idea of the "sandman" who puts the babies to sleep is another adaptation.

HINT OF TROUBLE IN NORTH CHINA GROWING LARGER

Tsing-tao Has No Protection and Foreigners Nervous
There

Out of the northern country, where he has been quartered at Tsing-tao for five years and out of which city he has just brought his wife and little child, A. Wilkinson arrived here this morning aboard the S.S. President Cleveland. Mr. Wilkinson stressed the great value of British troops in Shanghai.

There had been a possibility of the same dangers at Shanghai as there had been at Nanking and other points, but the presence of the British soldiers, he said, made the place and its people safe. Despite all the precautions, however, foreigners there could not help but feel a little nervousness. He had experienced the sensation particularly as his wife and child were with him.

ALL ARE NERVOUS

In Tsing-tao everyone was nervous. Shanghai was in a far better position than that city which he had just left, said Mr. Wilkinson. In Tsing-tao there were no soldiers of any nationality but Chinese. Should there ever be trouble there, and the Chinese mobs got out of hand, it was possible that a massacre would result. There was nothing to stop it. Not counting the German residents at Tsing-tao, there were perhaps 200 foreigners in the city. He was glad to say that with his arrival on the coast there had been three less, he said, a relief.

"One cannot but be glad to leave a place like that at a time like this," he said. "It is so dangerous for the women and children when there is violence."

BRITISH LABRITES ASSAIL TRADE UNION BILL BEFORE HOUSE

Speakers at Points Throughout Country Say Baldwin Measure is Mistake

London, April 11.—Week-end speeches by Labor leaders at points throughout Britain were largely a continuation of the expression of bitter hostility to the Baldwin Government's Trade Union Bill. Perhaps the most interesting utterance was that of Lord Henry Cavendish, Conservative, South Nottingham, who declared:

"The bill will throw the country back into industrial strife. I will have none of it. I believe in the right of the people to form themselves into a great brotherhood for advancement and improvement. This bill is a denial of such faith."

INQUIRY SUGGESTED

Considerable interest is taken in the suggestion put forward by Sir John Simon, former minister and now Liberal member for Spen Valley, Yorkshire, that a royal commission should be formed to investigate the whole subject of strikes. Simon, particularly dislikes the absence from the bill of any reference to the illegality of lockouts, which, like strikes, might be designed to coerce the community.

The same point was vigorously handled by Sir Henry Bessier, Labour member for South Leeds and former Solicitor-General, who declared against the "wickedness of the proposal wherein the workers are attacked by the employers, who are left with perfect freedom to declare a lockout."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

The Victoria Daily Times, April 11, 1902.

The United States revenue cutter Grant, looking sleek and span as though newly launched, dropped anchor in James Bay this morning.

The sailing schooner May Taylor put into Banfield Creek to secure supplies.

It is probable that the H.M.S. Shearwater, due here from the South on April 21 will be assigned for patrol duty in the Bering sea this year, and if two vessels are dispatched on the same mission the Phaeton will possibly accompany her.

Hon. Edgar Dewdney's report on the survey through the Hope Mountains was presented to the House yesterday. It was not too encouraging.

There not being sufficient business on the route to warrant two steamers in service the Princess May will take the place of the Amur on the latter's next scheduled trip to Skagway.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL PRESENTS VANCOUVER EVENTS

Attends Sunday Church Service; Speaks at Civic Banquet

Vancouver, April 11.—Viscount and Viscountess Willingdon, visitors in Vancouver, attended divine service yesterday forenoon at Christ Church where the Governor-General assisted in the regular morning prayer by reading the first and second lessons from the lectern.

The vice-regal party was met at the gate of the church by Rev. C. B. Price, curate in charge and escorted to seats in the front of the church. Lord and Lady Willingdon were accompanied by Major Willis O'Connor, Captain C. Price-Davies and James P. Crowley.

Rev. W. H. Vance, D.D., and Mr. Dowker, a student from the Anglican Theological College, assisted in the service, and the sermon was preached by the Ven. Archdeacon Heathcote from the text, John III, 16.

The special anthem rendered by the choir was Passion music appropriate to Palm Sunday.

VARIED ENTERTAINMENT

Never has the variety of Vancouver's natural charms been more vividly displayed to visitors than on Saturday and Sunday to Viscount and Viscountess Willingdon.

Saturday afternoon they were welcomed to the city amid a shower of flowers and a band of music.

Sunday afternoon a half-hour's motor drive took them through the snows of Grouse Mountain, where the Governor-General and Lady Willingdon were given the novel experience of a four-mile drive in a dog sled, pulled by a team of six stout huskies. At the mountain top under conditions resembling those of an Arctic Winter, they witnessed an expert demonstration of ski-jumping and had they been clad for the part, said they could hardly have resisted joining the merry young people on their tour of recreation.

As guests of officers of the Grouse Mountain Scenic Highway Company Lord and Lady Willingdon and their suite were entertained at tea in the Chalet. From the driveway which passes its front door they gazed out over the vast expanse of the mainland coast, the Gulf waters and Vancouver Island beyond.

INTERESTED IN SCENERY

"We have seen nothing to equal this since we came to Canada," exclaimed Lord Willingdon.

The trip to Grouse Mountain was an informal excursion, arranged to fill an afternoon free from official engagements. Members of the Governor-General's suite rode in a caravan sleigh drawn by a sturdy caterpillar tractor, which kept close at the heels of the dogs all the way. Accompanying Lord and Lady Willingdon were Mr. Justice Morrison, Major J. G. Fordham, H. O. Bell-Irving, J. W. Fordham-Johnson, Miss Helen Fordham-Johnson, Miss Margaret Stewart, and as members of His Excellency's staff, Col. H. S. Tobin, Major Willis O'Connor and Captain C. Price-Davies.

CITY BANQUET

The civic banquet in the crystal ballroom of Hotel Vancouver Saturday evening was one of the most lavish and memorable functions ever put on by the city of Vancouver.

The entrance of Lord and Lady Willingdon was heralded by the National Anthem. The Governor-General, in referring to the cabinet of samples, he smiled and said a remark he had made in a Montreal speech that he was going to become the chief advertising agent of Canada, would hold good here.

"I shall never forget the extraordinary warmth with which we have been received," the Governor-General said in expressing his thanks. "I think it is entirely due to the fact that I arrived as a representative of His Majesty King George, and that it is an expression of your loyalty to referring to the cabinet of samples, he smiled and said a remark he had made in a Montreal speech that he was going to become the chief advertising agent of Canada, would hold good here."

DESIRES TO LEARN
"For twenty years I have had the privilege of doing service in various parts of the Empire," said Lord Willingdon. "I am proud that in the latter days of my service I am privileged to assist your great Dominion in its future."

"I am entirely a small boy. I want to learn and to teach. I want to get all the information I can, so that later, in two or three years perhaps I may be able to give you all a good long lecture."

After all had stood and sung "O Canada," Lord and Lady Willingdon took up a position at the head of the stairs and received and shook hands with the guests as they left the ballroom.

During the banquet, at the head table besides the Governor-General and Viscountess Willingdon, were Mayor Taylor, Archbishop and Mrs. A. U. DeFencier, Mr. Justice Morrison, Mayor and Mrs. J. C. Pendray of Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Morris, Mrs. E. S. Smith, M.P.P., Col. H. S. Tobin, D.S.O., Commander R. I. Agnew, R.C.N., and Dr. R. E.

PRAIRIE STORM WAS CAUSE OF DEATHS

Blizzard Conditions Led to Train and Auto Tragedies on Canadian Plains

Great Snow-drifts Piled up by April Weather Disturbance

Winnipeg, April 11.—The blizzard of Saskatchewan and Alberta to-day were recovering from blizzard conditions which prevailed Saturday. After the worst blizzard of the season, milder conditions prevailed yesterday and today, though it was cool and cloudy.

Two railway accidents and one automobile mishap which occurred during the height of the blizzard took a toll of five lives. Two railwaymen were killed when two freight trains collided head-on near Seven Persons, Alberta, and three persons met death when their automobile swept over an embankment into Swift Current Creek, in Saskatchewan.

A passenger train collided with a freight car near Kindersley, Sask., but no one was injured.

A heavy wind accompanied the snow, piling up huge drifts, ranging from two to ten feet deep, with the worst conditions prevailing in the Medicine Hat district of Alberta.

In Manitoba snow was reported in some localities, but rain was more general, creating a dangerous flood menace.

Telegraph Briefs

Tacoma, April 11.—A box of dynamite caps found by boys in a deserted shack on the outskirts of Tacoma caused the loss of the fingers on one hand of Donald Melendy, seven, and endangered the lives of his playmates. Before the explosion one child placed a cap in his mouth and bent it with his teeth to make a whistle, and other children carried them in their pockets and threw them in the air and against stumps. The caps had been left by men who had been blasting to open up a new street.

Nelson, B.C., April 11.—Going further afield than usual for its quarterly conference, the Mountain Lumber Manufacturers' Association, which customarily holds its gatherings in Calgary, convened this forenoon in Edmonton for the special convenience of the member mills in Northern British Columbia and Northern Alberta. A proposal for co-operative selling will be discussed.

Saskatoon, April 11.—Children, who are believed to have played on a string of freight cars and uncoupled one are thought to have been responsible for a collision between a Goose Lake passenger train and a flat car during a blizzard blizzard two miles west of Kindersley, Sask., last Saturday morning. No one was injured, although the passengers and train crew received a severe jarring. An investigation is being made.

Winnipeg, April 11.—After serving several years in the penitentiaries at Kingston and Stony Mountain, Russell Robinson, a former bank robber, has left here for Kingston, Ont., from where he will start an evangelistic tour which will take him to all parts of Canada and the United States. Russell, a convert of the Prison Bible Society, was released from Stony Mountain penitentiary on Saturday. He had served a year in the Manitoba institution, having been transferred from Kingston. The robbery of which Russell was convicted was committed at Windsor, Ontario, in 1921.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., April 11.—Motorists entering Canada at Niagara Falls must now submit to a rigid examination of their automobiles as to motor and serial numbers and comparison of these numbers with those on their number registration cards. This heretofore has been done only casually. Discovery that United States cars were being smuggled into Canada is said to have brought about this action.

Saskatoon, April 11.—William Thrasher was elected secretary-treasurer of the Saskatchewan section of the United Farmers of Canada at a meeting of the board of directors held here Saturday. Mr. Thrasher, since the amalgamation of the Farmers' Union with the Grain Growers' Association, had been acting in the position with a temporary appointment. Prior to the amalgamation he held the same position with the Farmers' Union.

Montreal, April 11.—The frontiers of civilization are being pushed steadily northward and Canada's destiny lies in the development of those great natural resources that at present lie almost untouched in these regions of the north. This was the message from the West brought to the East by C. R. McIntosh, Liberal M.P. for North Battleford, Saskatchewan, in an address to the Montreal Reform Club Saturday. Mr. McIntosh gave a comprehensive story of the difficulties Canada had had to overcome in her march forward and pointed out how large a share of the credit for those accomplishments the Dominion had made, belonged to the Liberal Party.

New York, April 11.—Members of the Canadian Club of New York honored Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian Minister to the United States, at a reception and dinner at the club's quarters on Saturday night. It was the tenth anniversary of the capture of Vimy Ridge by the Canadian forces. It was the first time the Canadian Minister had been the guest of a Canadian gathering since his arrival in this country. Mr. Massey informally addressed the gathering.

Bucharest, April 11.—King Ferdinand's escape from the Valley of Death is attributed by the Roumanians to his great will-power and desire to live. He has entered upon a period of convalescence, according to his physicians. So improved was the King's condition felt to be that his physicians decided yesterday afternoon to issue no further medical bulletins. It is expected King Ferdinand may be able to resume his normal routine shortly.

Regina, April 11.—First reports of seedling in Saskatchewan came from Lemsford, in the southern part of the province, where several farmers had their drills out last week.

New York, April 11.—Three theatres, situated on land near Broadway and 45th Street acquired originally by the Astor family for a few hundred dollars an acre, were sold last Saturday for $2,000,000 to Walter P. Reade, owner of a chain of theatres in New Jersey. The City Investing Company, which sold them, acquired the playhouses for $1,150,000 when the holdings of the late Henry Astor were disposed of at auction. The three theatres are the Astor, the Bijou and the Morosco.

Washington, April 11.—Bootleggers must file income tax returns, the government contends in a brief filed in the Supreme Court of the United States in its appeal in a case from South Carolina against M. S. Sullivan.

Washington, April 11.—Fears of engineers that the White House roof was in a precarious condition have been confirmed by its recent removal. In the course of reconstruction of the upper part of the executive mansion, uncovering operations showed the huge trusses which held the burden of roof had sunk out of place and were actually resting on the fragile partition walls on the third floor. In the opinion of army engineers, the roof might have caved in at the slightest disturbance or it might have continued in place for many more years, depending on circumstances.

FINDS MADE AT UR BY ARCHAEOLOGISTS

Philadelphia, April 11.—Objects 2,000 years older and "rivaling in artistic merit and skill in craftsmanship" the treasures of Tutankhamen have been found by the joint expedition of the British Museum and the University of Pennsylvania at Ur-of-the-Chaldees in Mesopotamia.

This was revealed in a report from Leonard Woolley, director of the joint expedition, made public by the University Museum here to-day. The expedition closed its excavations at Ur for season on February 12. Clay tablets bearing the names of kings unrecorded in history and indications that they had ruled as early as 3,500 B.C. were among the discoveries. Mr. Woolley said that because of the nature of the soil, Mesopotamia would never produce such furniture as filled the rock-hewn hermetically-sealed chambers of Egypt, but that articles carved from gold and other metals able to resist the chemical action of the soil were superior in craftsmanship to those found in Tutankhamen's Tomb.

Brentwood

The St. Stephen's and St. Mary's branch of the W. A. of Mount Newton and Saanichton held their regular fortnightly meeting at the home of Mrs. King, Saanichton, with seventeen members present. Mrs. Derriberg was in the chair and after the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Miss Barton, the treasurer, Mrs. Greensted, presented the financial statement, which showed a substantial balance in the bank. Arrangements were completed for the dance to be given on Friday, April 29, in the Agricultural Hall, Saanichton. Tickets are now available from the secretary and members. The afternoon was spent in sewing until the tea-hour, when dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Wickenden and Mrs. Greensted. The next meeting will be held on April 29, at the home of Mrs. Cary Wood, Keating.

The West Saanich Women's Institute will hold its regular monthly meeting in the Institute Hall on Tuesday, April 12, at 2:30 p.m. In addition to the regular business a paper on "Home Economics" will be read by Mrs. H. McQueen.

Two of the three games of basketball played in the West Road Hall were won by the city visitors, but the West Road Seniors had the edge on the James Bay and won by a good margin. The usual dance was held after the games, Estlin's orchestra furnishing the music. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge. The teams were: Scarlet Runners—T. Renne, G. Carmichael, E. Harris, D. Lee, L. Newham—30 points. West Road—O. Young, M. Anderson, O. Anderson, T. Clarke, M. Peden—4 points. Sons of Canada—L. Hay, J. Taylor, D. Middleton, G. Taylor, F. Collier, H. ### PRETTY WEDDING AT FOUZ BAY CHURCH

Miss Dorothy Lorna Raven Married to Henry J. Kidd Saturday

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Saturday evening when the Rev. H. T. Archibald officiated in St. Matthias Church, and Dorothy Lorna, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Raven, became the bride of Mr. Henry James Kidd, of Bamberton and Victoria, only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Kidd, Craigflower Road.

The bride, given away by her father, was lovely in a costume ensemble of blue de rose silk crepe and carried a bouquet of pink sweetpeas and maidenhair fern.

Mr. Frank Morrison, sister of the groom, was matron of honor, and wore a pretty gown of deep rose silk crepe with hat en suite. Miss Dora Young, Royal Oak, was bridesmaid and wore a charming costume in blonde shade. Both attendants carried arm bouquets of pink carnations and sweetpeas in pink and mauve shades.

The groom, supported by Mr. Fred Tomlinson of Bamberton, while Mr. S. H. Raven, brother of the bride, acted as usher. During the signing of the register Mrs. A. T. Hodgson sang "At Dawning," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Cummings, who also played during the ceremony.

At the residence later the guests, including only immediate relatives and friends, were received by Mr. and Mrs. Kidd and by Mr. and Mrs. Kidd Sr. A buffet supper was served with Mrs. Hodgson and Miss Young assisting the hostess. The three-tier wedding cake was cut by the bride, occupying a place of honor. The reception rooms and tables were pretty with masses of daffodils and Japanese plum blossoms.

Mr. and Mrs. Kidd left by the night boat for Vancouver. They will leave immediately for a motor-tour of the Southern States, and on their return will reside in Victoria and later at Bamberton.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MERTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This article is in answer to a reader whose little girl, three years old, has suddenly decided that she would not drink her milk. She will sit with the cup in front of her for hours and take none of the milk. The mother has withheld other food, has even banished the child from the table until she would take her milk, but she has even gone so far as to send her to bed supperless. She would still refuse the milk in the morning, though she seemed to have no objection to it when she was good. She is fat, healthy child and does not eat between meals. Now what is to be done?

Such a situation confronts most mothers at some time or other. It may happen when the baby is deprived of a bottle and then refuses to drink from a cup. It may happen in this case, when the child is older and suddenly develops an aversion to a glass of milk.

It seems to me better in all such cases to make as little fuss about them as possible. To make a great to-do and face the crisis with the firm attitude that this stubborn child must be conquered, develops a situation which may rapidly become critical because the child finds herself, "getting away with it" and she will be defiant and continue to refuse the milk. What does she care for the loss of food? She is the object of exclusive notice and any child adores this.

JUBILEE W.A. TAG DAY NETTED $1,010

INTERNATIONAL BALL HERE AFTER EASTER

Lady Douglas Chapter I.O.D.E. Sponsors Event For April 29

Co-operating with the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations in response to an invitation extended by the Seattle Chamber of Commerce to participate with them in the celebration of the one hundred and thirty-fifth anniversary of the arrival of Capt. George Vancouver on Puget Sound waters, the Lady Douglas Chapter I.O.D.E., whose motto is "To keep one hand on the traditions of the past and green the memory of our illustrious dead," will hold an international ball under distinguished patronage in honor of the event at the Empress Hotel on Friday, April 29, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The ball will be the first big social function after the Lenten season, and will offer a splendid opportunity to strengthen the happy relationship already existing between the people of Victoria and the people of the Puget Sound city.

It will also serve as a preliminary to the celebrations tentatively arranged for the following week to commemorate the landing of the Spanish navigator at Gonzales. Ozard's orchestra will be in attendance, and will dispense the latest dance hits in music, and for guests who do not dance tables will be placed in the private dining-room for bridge, mah jong and five hundred. A delicious supper will be served in the large dining-room.

The Lady Douglas Chapter expresses the hope that the public will give their whole-hearted support to the undertaking, and with the British and United States flags side by side make the first international ball in Victoria an outstanding success. Tickets will be on sale at Fletcher Bros.

Onwegos Elect New Officers For Term

The Onwego Young Men's Bible Class of First Church held another of their monthly meetings on Friday evening at the home of Mr. Wilfred McGregor, Minto Street. The meeting was interesting in that Mr. McGregor is one of the oldest members of the class, which originated some ten years ago.

A fairly good turnout was represented, but owing to several other attractions there were not so many present as at former social gatherings of this nature. William Erith, president of the class, occupied the chair and a short business meeting took place, at the close of which the officers were elected and installed for the summer term, as follows: Leader, R. G. Howell; president, Wm. Erith (re-elected); vice-president, Jack Taylor (re-elected); secretary, Dick Holman; treasurer, Bernard Gough; assistant secretary-treasurer, George Butler; librarians, Bob Trynka and Wm. Taylor; sports, Wm. Main; membership, Gordon Robson; social, Alfred Longley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Noble entertained on Friday at their home, 2647 First Street, the occasion being the twenty-first birthday of their daughter, Hazel. The evening was spent in music and dancing, after which a dainty buffet supper was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. D. E. Campbell and Mrs. A. W. Curtis.

Among those present were the Messrs. P. L. Gordon, Government Street, left yesterday on the Alexander, to spend a few days on a lengthy visit with friends. Mrs. A. Coniell, Government Street, also left for San Francisco, where she will attend some time at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Patrick Field.

Miss Grace Hunter of Toronto, who has been visiting in Victoria for the last two weeks, and left to-day for the mainland en route to her home in Ontario.

Mr. Robert Rogers Jr. of Winnipeg, who has been visiting in Victoria for the last two weeks as a guest at the Empress Hotel, left yesterday for the mainland on his way to his home in Manitoba.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Macara of Winnipeg, who have been holidaying at the Empress Hotel for the last three months, left this afternoon on their return to their home. They have been wintering in Victoria each year for several years and said that they plan to return here as usual at the end of this year.

Mrs. E. C. Hayward, secretary of the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., entertained the secretaries of the primary chapters at tea at her home on Bowker Avenue, Oak Bay, Saturday. Those present were: Mrs. P. E. Corby, Mrs. E. U. Reid, Mrs. A. L. Phillips, Mrs. F. W. Bayliss, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Riley, Mrs. Chambers, Miss Margaret, Mrs. Bates, Mrs. King, the Misses B. Streetfield, Dorothy Geake, Jean Thomas, Kathleen Brown and Dorothy Scott.

Commander and Mrs. G. P. Clarke were the raison d'être of a delightful surprise party at their home in Esquimalt last evening, when a number of their friends paid them an unexpected visit. Those present included: Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bucklin, Capt. and Mrs. Hartly, Col. and Mrs. Winiby, Lieut.-Commander and Mrs. Gauvreau, Lieut. and Mrs. Morrison, Dr. and Mrs. Harper, Capt. and Mrs. A. T. B. Laybourn, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. D. Downes, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Price, Mrs. Wheatley, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Madden, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Nash, Capt. and Mrs. Cyril Norman.

A pleasant evening was spent at the W.I. Hall, Langford, on Friday evening when the members of the Wilfred Lumb Company Social Club, with their wives and friends, numbering about sixty persons, held their first social event. Progressive five hundred was played, until 9 o'clock, the prize winners being Mr. C. Cudmore and Mr. G. M. Percy, after which supper was served by the committee, consisting of Messrs. L. E. Rogers, J. V. Owens and J. Stephen. Dancing was commenced at 10 o'clock, and was carried on until the early hours of Saturday morning.

Mr. C. M. Percy highly amused the gathering with his step dancing, also recited a monologue entitled "Blasphemous Bill." The committee should be highly congratulated for the excellent way in which they brought the event to be such a great success.

LAILA

A Tale of the Days of Christ, by John Newport
(Copyright, 1926, by Eugene MacLean)

"She has gone away," said the other. "We went to the house of Ezra, the elder. He granted her shelter from the publican, and her servant gave her an animal. On its back she has fled, toward Bethshean."

"A wicked city," interposed Maryam, "and she will surely come to harm."

"The two soldiers laughed. "More likely Bethshean will come to harm," commented Antonius. "The woman is a tigress, the only reason she did not slay me in my sleep was that I protected her from the publican."

"Surely not!" the girl protested. "You do not know Laila," said Antonius. "But what is the matter with Bethshean? I have passed through it, and it seemed a fair enough city. It is a city of Bethel," said the girl earnestly. "It is one of the ten wicked cities of Palestine that follow the ways of Greece. The tongue is Greek, and the gods are Greek."

"I have had excellent entertainment among the Greeks," said the soldier at the door. "It surprises me," said Antonius, "that Laila should have settled here at all, when she could have gone to Bethshean. The Greeks do not care if one is Arabian, Egyptian or Jew, so long as they have money to spend. They are traders, they live by buying and selling."

"My father has said," Maryam told him, "that when Laila came to Jezreel, she had nothing but the clothes she wore, and was weary, and fell by the wayside. The townspeople let her use this house, which had been empty for fifty years or more."

"If I remember Bethshean," observed the man in the doorway, "she would not have received a free dwelling there. She was wise to stay in Jezreel."

Antonius's comrade was looking at the heavy, costly trappings which Omar's servants had brought food. He pointed at them now.

"Give me those to sell in the market," he said, "and each of us will have money to spend."

Antonius considered this offer. "It will be wiser not to take them," he said at length. "They belong to a stranger who has strange powers, and is rich, you might come to grief."

"Is he a Roman?" demanded the other.

"No, a Roman—nor yet a Jew," said Antonius, "nor an Egyptian, nor a Tyrean."

"Then why should a Roman soldier trouble himself about him? Let us take the trappings—they are worth many pieces of silver."

He stopped, noting the expression on Antonius's face. The injured man was pointing. His comrade looked around.

In the doorway, half a foot from the Roman, Omar leaned against the wall. None of them had seen him come.

CHAPTER XXII

"I am glad," said Omar, "that my humble offering is appreciated."

The soldier, who stood beside him, glanced at the white kidnap tunic, the scarlet mantle, and the jeweled sword that Omar wore.

"You are a trader, perhaps," he said.

"A trader—after a fashion," the stranger replied. "You were speaking, were you not, of taking my trappings in trade?"

The soldier laughed. "And I think I shall do so," he said, "and sell them, and share the money with Antonius."

Omar quietly moved into the room. "One time," he said, softly, "I told Antonius here that no man ever took from me anything that is mine—unless I gave it freely. Also, I showed him one reason why."

Facing the soldier, he stretched out his arm, and lifted the Roman shield from the other's shoulder. The shield was curved, and bound with heavy iron. Taking it between his two hands, Omar pressed upon the edges. In a moment there was a loud crack, and the shield was broken in two sections, broken completely through the middle.

"Soldier," he repeated, hanging back the broken parts, "no man takes from me that which is mine."

The Roman looked ruefully at the wreckage in his hands. "You could have proved it to me in a less costly way than this," he said. "I shall be tried up, and whipped, when the commander sees my shield."

Omar stepped to the door, and

Mrs. Nickerson Now Praises Dodd's Kidney Pills

"I have been taking Dodd's Kidney Pills for two and a half years," writes Mrs. W. W. Nickerson, Crowl, N.S. "I am sure I should not have been here to-day if I had not taken them. I could not walk to the barn and back to the house without resting. It is only a little way from the house. Now I can run there and back if I want to. Dodd's Kidney Pills have done wonders for me and I can never give them half the praise they deserve."

whistled upon his fingers. A servant appeared—one of those who had brought Antonius his breakfast. "Bring one of the two Roman shields," he ordered.

As the man trotted away, Omar turned to the trio inside the house. "My men brought to me the arms of the soldiers who were slain beside the Jordan," he said. "I shall give you a shield to replace the one I broke. But, soldier," he said, "do not seek ever again to tamper with anything that is mine."

The soldier drew back a pace. "I never shall," he said. His gaze was fixed, in fascination, upon the black eyes of the stranger. "I shall do what you command me, and be your follower whenever you desire."

Omar smiled. "Well, said, soldier, and now, you may take these—the motioned at the brass trays upon the ground—and sell them, if you will. Holding it before him, and carefully examining it, the soldier took his departure.

"A strange thing," said Antonius thoughtfully, "I brought to Omar his first news of the battle beside the Jordan. And yet here he has the shields of the men who were slain!"

The girl shuddered. "He did not look at me, and he did not speak to me, yet my flesh quivers as I think of him."

She moved to the door, upon her hands and knees, and looked out. "He has gone," she said, returning. "My father has told of strange things that were done in the old days, when the Jews were captives in Babylon—of strange men, of evil power, who were the priests—the soothsayers, and who led the children of Israel into wicked ways."

She shivered again. "To this day our speech is not in the ancient tongue of our fathers. It is only in the synagogue and in the temple that Hebrew is spoken now."

Her eyes were upraised and shining. "They corrupted our voices with their charms, and defiled our temples, and bowed down our heads. But the God of Israel shall triumph. She stood up, and stretched her arms above her head. The stranger and the outlaw sit in the market places of Israel, and the barbarian gives his law to the elders, and the descendant of a slave sits on the throne of David. But behold, a new time comes, and she drew her hands slowly downward, and clasped them at her breast. Antonius stirred uneasily.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the High Water

Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"Take two umbrellas to-day, Uncle Wiggily! Take two umbrellas!" cried Bumble Wiggles as he pranced around the bungalow house one April morning.

"Why should I take two umbrellas?" asked the rabbit gentleman, giving his pink nose an upside down twinkle. "Isn't one enough?"

"Oh, no!" answered Dazie Wiggles. "It's raining so hard you had better take two."

Mr. Longears, who was visiting for a time with Boppy and Um, the queer little wooden man and woman in their bungalow home, to help unscramble the six Wiggles children—Uncle Wiggily looked out of the window.

"It is raining very hard," he chuckled. "But I think one umbrella will be enough when I go adventuring. But I'm not going until you Wiggles."

"Oh, they don't mind high water," said Boppy. "They are made of wood, are my Wiggles, and if they can't walk on dry land—they can swim or float in the water. Scamper along to the Hollow Stump School now!" he cried. The Lady Mouse Teacher is waiting for you."

When the little wooden creatures had skipped on their way to school Uncle Wiggily took his umbrella

"I wonder if I can leap this brook?"

Jigs start for school," he added, for he wanted to see that Mazi didn't take Bumble's green tail for a joke, and that Gazie didn't try to put one of Wumpie's yellow legs in place of her own white one. For the Wiggles were always getting scrambled like that.

Certainly it was raining very hard. Out in front of the bungalow a little stream of water ran down the gutter. As more rain came the water rose higher, until the gutter looked like a little river.

"How are the Wiggles?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, they don't mind high water," said Boppy. "They are made of wood, are my Wiggles, and if they can't walk on dry land—they can swim or float in the water. Scamper along to the Hollow Stump School now!" he cried. The Lady Mouse Teacher is waiting for you."

When the little wooden creatures had skipped on their way to school Uncle Wiggily took his umbrella from the stand in Boppy's hall, opened the front door and looked out. The rain was pelting down harder than at breakfast time.

"Do you think you had better go out?" asked Um, who was rolling duster in her mouth, for she had no arms or hands and the furniture needed cleaning. That was Um's way.

"Oh, I am not afraid to go out!" laughed the bunny gentleman. "The rain will not harm me any more than it will harm the Wiggles."

So, holding his umbrella over his head, Mr. Longears hopped out into the April storm. At first it was quite pleasant, for the rain was warm, and Uncle Wiggily went splashing through the puddles with his rubber boots, which made squiggle-squiggle sounds in the mud. The umbrella kept his head dry and he was having fun.

"But I wonder if I can find an adventure in all this rain?" asked the bunny gentleman of himself. "Jolly adventures will hardly come out in such a heavy shower. But, anyhow, I'll hop along."

So he hopped along, jumping over one brook after another, until he reached a wide one in which the brown water was bubbling along very fast.

"Mr. Longears, I can leap this brook," he said to himself, "which is almost a river."

ears asked himself. "Well, anyhow I'll try." He gave a run and a jump. But alas! Also sorrow and woe! Uncle Wiggily only jumped half way across the brook, and then he splashed right down into the middle of it. And the rain had made so much high water that the rabbit was carried down the stream, swept off his feet and whirled around and around until he was quite dizzy.

"Oh, I'm in the high water! Help! Help!" cried Uncle Wiggily.

"Hat! Hat!" laughed the Bob Cat who sat safe and sound on the bank. "Do you think I'll jump in and save you? Not much I hope. The high water is over your head."

"Oh, help!" cried Uncle Wiggily.

Wiggily again. Faster and faster the brook was sweeping him away. Then all of a sudden some voices cried: "We'll save you, Uncle Wiggily! We'll save you!"

Out of the Hollow Stump School not far away, rushed the six Wiggles. It was their recess time and they saw the rabbit gentleman in the high water.

"Quick!" cried Bumble. "We must make ourselves into a raft so Uncle Wiggily can climb up on our backs and get out of the high water!"

No sooner said than done. The six wooden Wiggles twined their legs together with their heads and tails sticking out of the high water, and over to them where they could see

When the Wiggles raft was close to him, the rabbit gentleman climbed up on it, and then the little creatures paddled with him to dry land. And when the Bob Cat saw them coming he ran away.

"There you are, Uncle Wiggily!" said Mazi as the bunny went ashore from his funny boat. "You are a little wet, but that's all."

"Thank you, yes!" chuckled the rabbit. Then he hopped to the bungalow to put on dry clothes.

And if the breakfast orange doesn't try to hide in the apple sauce when the oatmeal wants to play tag with it, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the high water.

The accused, who was arrested yesterday morning at 11 o'clock on Coal Harbor Road by Detectives Rogers and Calwell, pleaded guilty to the charge. He originally lived in Vancouver, but had come to Victoria from Nanaimo, walking nearly all the way from the up-island centre, except for an occasional lift by passing motorists. At the time of his arrest Watson told Detective Rogers that he was doing nothing but walk the streets and sleep in the city parks at night. He was remanded until Monday morning.

VANCOUVER WILL SEND TWO HUNDRED DELEGATES TO CITY

Victoria Committee Returns After Making Arrangements For Foreign Trade Conference

Fullest Co-operation Offered By Mainland; Big Eastern Representation Expected

"We are most gratified with results obtained both in Vancouver and Seattle, and feel assured that the Pacific Foreign Trade Conference to be held in Victoria this September will be a pronounced success," said C. P. W. Schwengers, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, who has returned to the city following conferences held in the Mainland and Sound cities regarding the forthcoming conference.

Mr. Schwengers was accompanied on the trip by C. P. Hill, J. P. Fowler, J. H. B. Kerr and George L. Warren, managing secretary of the Victoria Chamber.

FULLEST CO-OPERATION

At Vancouver the local delegation attended a lunch given under the auspices of the Vancouver Board of Trade where the matter was fully explained to the Mainland body.

The Vancouver Board replied to the effect that they would give their fullest co-operation and support and would send a minimum of 200 delegates to the Victoria gathering.

The Vancouver board also appointed a delegate to accompany the Victoria committee to Seattle to take part in the conference with the chief executive.

At Seattle the Victoria committee had a conference with William Pigot, president of the Pacific Foreign Trade Conference, and the executive committee, and the Seattle officials expressed themselves as being delighted with the manner in which the Victoria members were handling the arrangements and were quite satisfied that all the final plans could be left in the hands of the local committee.

Arrangements were made to send Miss M. Goode, secretary of the foreign trade bureau of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, to the National Foreign Trade Convention at Detroit next month. From there Miss Goode will proceed to Washington to assist in the progress of negotiations already in progress to obtain a big-Eastern representation at the Victoria conference.

Many outstanding business men and speakers will come to Victoria for the meeting and Miss Goode while in the United States capital will be able to obtain a knowledge of those who have definitely decided to attend.

Following upon the suggestion of the Victoria delegation it was decided to appoint W. M. L. Clarke, secretary of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, to act in an ex-officio capacity on the foreign trade committee, and in this manner a definite link is built up between the Victoria committee and Eastern Canada.

Mr. Clarke's vast knowledge and desire for the success of the convention should result in a greater attendance from Eastern centres.

HINDUSTANIS SEE GOVERNOR-GENERAL ON CITIZENSHIP

Petition Presented During Stay of His Excellency in Vancouver

Wish to be Treated as British Subjects Not Aliens in Canada

Representing 1,100 Hindustanis residents of Canada, a committee of eight presented His Excellency the Governor-General, Viscount Willington, during his visit to Vancouver Saturday, with a petition dealing with rights of citizenship. Sacrifices of life of Hindustanis and contributions of wealth in the cause of the Empire during the Great War are quoted in arguments for ordinary rights of British citizenship to assist in allaying unrest and to make for the solidarity of the commonwealth.

Another section ask for rights and privileges as given to British subjects in Canada.

The petition reads:

The Governor-General of Canada. The Hindustanis residing in Canada respectfully submit for Your Excellency's consideration the following:

1. The Hindustanis are natives of East India, a part of the British Empire and are therefore in all respects true native born British subjects.

2. Modern history, right up to and including the World War, as well as the present troubles in China, has demonstrated that the Hindustanis have always been among the first to be called upon to support and defend the empire and its subjects.

Not only have they given of their money but have shed their blood in the cause of empire. Indeed it is to be noted that the first blood shed on behalf of the empire in the Chinese trouble was that of East India.

3. There are now in Canada approximately 1,100 of these subjects, all engaged in honest occupations and doing a not unimportant share in developing the country's resources and strengthening the empire.

4. That it is impossible to shut our eyes to the fact that there is much unrest at the present time in India—such unrest being but the natural outcome of the growth of a national spirit and a desire on the part of that portion of the empire to attain a measure of equality with the other Dominions.

5. That the giving to the Hindustanis of the ordinary rights pertaining to British citizenship would in no small measure assist in allaying this unrest and make for the solidarity of the commonwealth.

6. That many of the 1,100 above mentioned have resided in Canada for from twenty to twenty-five years during which time they have purchased improved and developed considerable land and built up many important and flourishing industries, paid large amounts in taxes and otherwise carried on as good and industrious citizens of their adopted country.

7. That because of restrictions made by the Immigration Department these men were not allowed to bring their wives and were thus forced to part from those dear to them. After being here for a number of years, a small number returned to India for the very natural purpose of visiting their families. Now, although many of these men are still taxpayers holding considerable vested interest in this country, they are not allowed to return to their families.

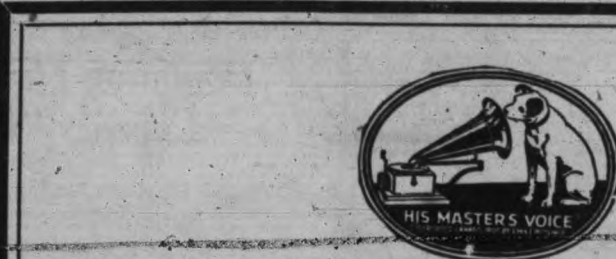

8. That members of the races which recently plunged the empire into that awful catastrophe of the World War, used their utmost endeavors to wipe the empire from the face of the earth, caused the loss of literally millions of our flesh and blood without mentioning the stupendous cost in dollars and cents, are admitted—event welcomed—allowed to become citizens with all the attending rights and privileges while we, who have always been subjects of the empire and given of our men and money in defence of the empire, are classed as aliens and are in the same category as the yellow race.

9. That we recognize the right of each Dominion to restrict its immigration as it sees fit but we respectfully submit that we should be treated as British subjects, not as aliens, and that those now here should be given the rights and privileges of British subjects. Further that those now in Canada who are referred to, should be allowed to return to Canada and on returning, regarded as citizens, with the privileges of such, so long at any rate as they conduct themselves in a manner befitting Canadian citizens.

10. We further urge that in the interests of the empire some, even though a small number, of our people should be admitted each year. Farmers particularly are required in this country and the regulations dealing with the entry of students and merchants might be respectfully submitted, be considerably relaxed.

11. It is interesting to note that the Imperial Conference of 1921 passed a resolution recognizing that there is an incongruity between the position of India as an equal member of the British Empire and the existence of disabilities upon the British Indians lawfully domiciled in some parts of the empire and recommended that the interests of solidarity of the British Commonwealth it was desirable that the rights of such Indians to citizenship should be recognized, and that Australia has of late years passed legislation under which British Indians lawfully domiciled in that commonwealth are placed in many respects on the same footing as other classes of His Majesty's subjects.

12. In conclusion we wish to thank Your Excellency for the hearing and strongly urge upon Your Excellency, as well as upon all British, Federal and Provincial statesmen, consideration of our not unreasonable requests, and your Petitioners are in duty bound will ever pray.

Returns From Investigation Tour For Baptist Church

After some months of investigation work in China and Japan, delving into the position of affairs in those countries resulting from the present disturbance in Asia, Dr. Albert W. Beavan, working on behalf of the Baptist Church, arrived here today aboard Ss. President Cleveland.

He believes that the United States policy of "hands off China" is the right one. That of Britain has been to protect its nationals' interests in China, he says.

Naturally, he says, Great Britain, with nearly 2,000,000 pounds sterling invested in China, feels in duty bound to place troops there to protect these interests. She has need of protection for the lives of her subjects, too. China has chosen the right weapon for fighting the foreigners, however, in the boycott. She will not, he believes, attempt to use force.

Those Winning Smiles

which mean so much... commercially, socially, are gained a new way by removing DINGY FILM from teeth

Don't believe your teeth are "naturally" dull. Just accept this 10-day test. See how dazzling white teeth and healthy gums come when film coats go.

HERE is a simple test that proves the truth of the recent dental statement that dull, "off-color" teeth can be lightened amazingly, given dazzling whiteness.

By right daily care you can work a great change in the color of your teeth. Can give them clear and charming gleam.

There is a new way in tooth and gum care. A way that removes the dingy film that clouds your teeth. A film that absorbs discolorations and keeps teeth dingy looking.

Just run your tongue across your teeth. And you will feel that film. It is the great enemy of pretty teeth and healthy gums.

It clings to the teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It forms a breeding place for germs. It lays your gums open to bacterial attack, your teeth open to decay. Those germs, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Old-time methods failed in successfully fighting film. So ugly teeth were common. You must remove it. Ordinary brushing won't do it satisfactorily. Under it are the clearer, whiter teeth you envy in others.

Now modern science has perfected an effective film combinator, called Pepsodent. It acts to curdle film, then removes it. It firms and protects gums; beautifies teeth quickly and correctly.

Wallace Beery Comes To Dominion Theatre In Baseball Comedy "Casey At The Bat"

Former "Heavy" Forsakes Drama to Appear as Baseball's Red-headed Idol Supported by Gifted Company

No matter who lands on top of the heap in this year's baseball race, whether it be the Cards, Giants, Yanks, Robins, White Sox or Pirates, fans will never be able to forget the big game of 1901. New York was playing Pittsburgh and things looked bad for Gotham. The crowd had about given up both hope and game to the smoky city when a great cry arose. Casey, heaviest hitter in the league, was advancing to the plate. Eye-witnesses of that memorable occasion still describe the expression which passed over the face of the Pittsburgh pitcher. Here, where he thought that everything had been "sewed up," was another obstacle to overcome. The crowd yelled and implored Casey to repeat the usual performance, to knock out a homer and save the day. Hats were tossed in air. Men went wild and shrieked, begging, imploring, until Casey tipped his cap and raised a hand. If pin had dropped, the echo would have rebounded. The pitcher wound up and tossed a ball. Casey scornfully let it fly by and the umpire calmly said, "Strike one." The bleachers cried, "Lynch him," but Casey quickly stilled them. Another strike flew past. The mob sat on edge, waiting for the third ball which would reach the catcher's mitt. All outfielders hurried to the furthestmost points right up against the distant fences. Then a bomb burst. The third delivery was a strike and Casey was out! Pittsburgh won the game!

That's one of the big scenes in Wallace Beery's Paramount comedy "Casey at the Bat," this week at the Dominion Theatre. As baseball's red-headed idol, Beery contributes laughs by the score. Zasu Pitts wins Waile away from the wiles of the entire Florida Sextette, Ford Sterling guides his diamond destinies and Sterling Holloway contributes some ridiculous villainy. All compliments concerning the direction should be directed toward Monte Brice, a former "gagman."

"Let James Do It"
Is Farce Comedy By Hincks Company
Lewis Stone and Anna Q. Nilsson Scores Double Triumph on Screen

Beginning Monday, Reg. Hincks is presenting "Let James Do It," a really screaming farce-comedy, with situation after situation, of hilarious mistakes. It deals largely with the marital troubles of Mrs. Duncan (Eva Payne), who has been estranged from her husband (Harold Bechtel). James (Will Marshall), waiter at the hotel where she is stopping under instructions from her guardian, Admiral Vincent (Reg. Hincks), is the fixer who fixes everything in nobody's kitchen. Mrs. Melville (Vivien Combe), a friend of Mrs. Duncans also gets mixed up in the affair. Then her husband (Jimmie Howards), who is a very jealous man, turns up with a lot of mistaken ideas about his wife's relations with the admiral. There is one grand and merry mix-up, which he eventually straightens out in time for the final curtain. And on the screen, Lewis Stone and Anna Q. Nilsson score a double triumph of personalities in "Midnight Lovers," a new First National picture, which is being shown at the Playhouse Theatre this week. The acting of this duo is a constant delight, from the opening giggle to the closing laugh.

Captain G. Ash to Display Skill With Weapon and Lasso

"Breed of the Sea" on Screen and Big Stage Feature at Variety Theatre

Among men, only the very young or the very old, do not feel a quickening of the blood as tales of skill with gun or rope are unfolded. Lovers of the skillful and the quick on the trigger are to have an exceptional treat for Captain George Ash in the city and his headbuckled, By Manager Calladine of the Variety Theatre as an added attraction. Capt. Ash is no stage performer. He is a performer on the stage of life, and by accuracy with his weapons has won his way to the forefront in many a noted action. He has visited all parts of the world where adventure lures and in addition to doing things, has prepared a marvelous record thereof. His latest notable exploit was to bring in single-handed Nelson Johnson, the Prince Rupert slayer, a receipt for whose delivery into custody, he proudly exhibits. Capt. Ash will give exhibitions of target shooting with one and two revolvers. Capt. Ash does not displace the pictures booked for the days of his visit. His display is an added attraction on the screen, "Breed of the Sea."

Wonderful Cabaret Scenes Shown in Columbia Picture

"The City" Is Screen Version of Famous Play by Clyde Fitch

One of the most fantastic as well as one of the most beautiful cabaret scenes ever filmed plays a prominent part in Fox Films version of "The City," the screen edition of the famous play by Clyde Fitch, coming to the Columbia Theatre.

This scene, which marks a pivotal point in the action of the play, was planned to fit into the theme and action of the picture itself. Mary Morgan's screen dancers, all of them selected not only for their ability to dance, but for their beauty as well, take part in the tableau.

A roar that knocks a picture off the wall is one of the big laughs in "More Pay—Less Work," Fox Films' version of Peter B. Kyne's latest Cappy Ricks story, which is now showing at the Columbia Theatre.

Dad Hinchfield, Cappy's old rival, enters his own offices and finds that his son has refurbished them while he has been away for a week. The refurbishing has been so complete that Dad does not recognize his own room. When he sets his breath he jets out the big roar that loosens the painting and it falls on his own head.

This is only one of the big laughs in this story, which is rated as Kyne's best Cappy Ricks tale. Albert Ray directed production with a cast which included Mary Brian, Charles Rogers, Otto Hoffman, Albert Gran and Charles Conklin.

OPERATIC TENOR TO APPEAR AT DOMINION

William Mitchell, the operatic tenor, who's fine voice has been delighting Dominion audiences will again appear at the Dominion this week. He will present an entirely new programme of popular songs, including "I Passed by Your Window," "You'll Remember Me," from the "Whispering Will," and "The Star." Mr. Mitchell is one of the finest tenors who has visited the Pacific Coast. His voice is of liquid quality and freshness, and his various songs are always sung with artistic feeling and dramatic effect. He is proving one of the most popular singers ever presented at the Dominion.

Famous Ladies' Orchestra And Paramount Comedy Are Attractions At Capitol

Clever Syncopators Who Sing, Dance and Play on the Stage; Adolphe Menjou Stars on Screen in "Blonde or Brunette"

Hailed as one of the cleverest and most sparkling dramas ever offered, "Blonde or Brunette," a Paramount picture starring Adolphe Menjou, is shown at the Capitol to-day.

The eternal triangle, that perennially popular motif of the drama, has in this instance been adroitly made fun of by no less a personage than the ultra-debonair Mr. Menjou, with Greta Nissen and Arlette Marchal as his chief assistants.

The French have always been clever in making froth of domestic oppressiveness, and a neat Gallic touch is much in evidence in this offering, which was adapted from the Parisian stage success, "An Angel Passes," by Jacques Bousquet and Henri Falk.

Menjou is the prosperous Paris barrister who tires of friends who make his apartment a free roadhouse. He decides to marry and settle down. Greta Nissen is the lucky girl.

The settling down is of brief duration. And Arlette Marchal, a brunette, decides that perhaps the gentleman doesn't fancy blondes after all. Thereupon a gay war ensues between both women for Adolphe's affection.

On the stage this week at the Capitol a party composed of talented young women-musicians will appear. It is with great pleasure that the management of the theatre is able to engage this unique musical organization.

The orchestra recently completed a tour of the Western United States and in every city where they appeared were received by enthusiastic audiences.

They are clever syncopators of popular music, interspersed with singing, dancing and instrumental solos. Gorgeously costumed, the company is a hit on any programme.

SAVING ORPHANS IN NEAR EAST A GREAT WORK SAYS SPEAKER

Dr. Handsaker of Portland
Tells Gyros About Relief
Work; Amundsen's Visit

The task of being father, mother, teacher and governor to the unfortunate children of the Near East was related by Dr. J. J. Handsaker of Portland, director of the Near East Relief Fund, in an address before the Gyro Club at the Chamber of Commerce to-day.

At the close of the Great War 1,000,000 orphans were left in the Near East, said Dr. Handsaker, and to this number many hundreds of thousands of other orphans were added by wars which followed. He told of how 42,000 children had been rescued from blindness by the skill of the medical men who had gone to the Near East and 150,000 had been saved from death.

"We are not trying to extend the animal life," said Dr. Handsaker. "If that was all we did there might be justification for the criticism as to why we should save these people. But we are going further. We are trying to stay with the boys and girls until they are sixteen years of age and send them out into the world with a trade or profession. Ninety per cent of our children make good."

ENTHUSIASM OVER AMUNDSEN
Gyro Sid Chivers, who has been appointed by the club to look after the details connected with the appearance of Capt. Roald Amundsen at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Friday, April 23, told the clubmen that the forthcoming visit of the explorer had aroused much interest in the city. Plans are being made, he said, to have a special lecture for school children.

F. Walker, of the Kiwanis Club, appeared at the luncheon to ask the support of the Gyros in the concert to be given by Cecilia Brault, Canada's foremost prima donna.

The Gyros will hold their regular bridge party at the clubrooms to-night at 8 o'clock.

The directors will meet at 6:15 o'clock this evening. Archie Willis, president, presided at the luncheon while the orchestra under Gyro Charlie Hunt gave an interesting programme of music.

THOUSANDS LINE STREETS TO SEE LARGEST CHURCH PARADE SINCE DAYS OF WAR

TO COMMEMORATE VIMY
Yesterday's church parade was held to commemorate the battle of Vimy Ridge which took place on April 9, 1917. At this battle 60,000 Canadian soldiers took part and achieved the capture of Vimy Ridge the key-point of the German line. All infantry battalions from British Columbia were engaged and the casualties suffered were heavy, some units losing all their attacking officers and half their effective strength.

It was most appropriate that soldiers and sailors of the present day army and navy should gather together for a service of this nature, on this particular day, as ten years ago 60,000 men, the flower of Canada's manhood, stood with uncovered heads at an Easter Sunday sermon previous to their taking part in the battle of Vimy Ridge, declared Rev. William Barton, Hon. Major Chaplain in the Fifth B.C. Coast Brigade, C.A., in his most impressive address before the large gathering of service units and citizens.

At the capture of Vimy Ridge, the strong point of the German lines, the Canadians covered themselves with undying fame and this was a most suitable time for their fellow comrades to commemorate the battle in which they made such heroic sacrifice.

BATTLE OF VIMY
At 5:30 o'clock those same 60,000 troops who attended the Easter service, leapt out from their muddy trenches on that historic morning. Every man, gripping his rifle for his Lewis gun, or whatever it was his duty to carry, plunged out through the open stretch of No Man's Land to scale to the summit of the opposing hill, under a seething fire, but behind the British barrage the enemy guns took terrific toll. The enemy trenches kept up a roar of rifle and machine gun fire, but in the face of this rain of lead and steel the Canadian troops did not flinch. Steady was their advance.

This was the first action in which the Canadian Corps under the then

General Byng had taken part as a unit. Twice the French had failed to take the stronghold of the Hun line, Vimy Ridge. Once British troops, with heavy loss of life, waited before the stern defence. The German trenches were considered all but impregnable.

The Hun position was strengthened by all manner of defensive works, with excavations, connected to the upper world by tunnels, in which whole brigades, and even divisions of infantry were protected. The Canadian lines were about 500 yards down the heights. Behind the Prussian front line were a second and third line of trenches, protected in turn by a maze of barbed wire entanglements, pits and pill boxes, in all a defence system two miles in depth. No wonder they believed it impregnable!

CANADIANS UNDAUNTED

The Canadians knew what they faced. Possibly it was the thought of the honor which would await their corps, possibly the enthusiasm born from sheer love of a mighty combat—a victory in two senses, for while smashing the lines before them they would establish a reputation for fighting men to admire and prove their superior strength—but no matter what the incentive, they went into the battle of Vimy with an indomitable courage and a terrific energy. Into that frightful fire which moved them down these men of the Great West sprang with bayonets fixed, and with hoarse-throated yells or an ominous silence, approached their foes.

Snow was falling. A barrage shattered ahead of them. Five minutes after their first move in the advance they had possession of the front line of the enemy trenches. They swept on. The reports of the action term their gallantry "extraordinary." They drove into the second line and captured hundreds of prisoners. In the tunnels which they passed, en route they trapped more of their enemies. They reached the third line of the German defence.

By night the enemy had been driven from Vimy Ridge. But the loss was heavy. Every battalion from British Columbia was engaged. Some units lost all of their officers and half their effective strength. All suffered terribly. They paid an immense price and earned their fair renown.

URGES BERRY MEN TO ORGANIZE FOR PRAIRIE SHIPMENT

Will be Badly Handicapped
Unless Fruit Movement is Controlled, Says Expert

Unless British Columbia berry growers can effect control of their shipments to the prairies this year they will be seriously handicapped in those markets, according to an outline of conditions contained in a report by J. A. Grant, B.C. Market Commissioner at Calgary.

Mr. Grant announces that an effort is being made to effect some organization among the berry shippers. Unless, however, this effort can control the L.C.I. shipments, which are usually consigned to jobbers and retailers indiscriminately and without control by shippers as to price, the best organized efforts for car-lot shipments will be seriously handicapped.

If the berries had been included in the Marketing and Agriculture departments controlled as to purchase price, there is little doubt, in Mr. Grant's opinion, but that the growers would get back a fair price on their shipments. If no control is possible and the usual methods are in practice and with an increased strawberry acreage to market from, the prospects are not bright for the berry industry because the growers are not organized for the orderly marketing of their crops.

The new ventilated cars which will be used for L.C.I. shipments are a great improvement over the line cars formerly used for this work. The L.C.I. berries will now arrive at Saskatchewan points in good conditions if shipped dry. This will leave a Manitoba market for the car-lot movement without competition from L.C.I. and as this market is usually well supplied from Missouri ahead of the B.C. season, it will not demand as much as the other two prairie provinces.

EXTEND MARKET RADIUS
Growers at Wynndel in the Kootenay district hope to largely extend radius of their market as a result of the pre-cooler which is being built there and which will be ready for this season's "straw." The money for its erection has been obtained from the Dominion department of agriculture and it will be constructed on similar lines to the one recently put in at Salmon Arm which has been of great benefit to the growers at that point.

build up her national life until she takes her proper, her important position among the nations of the world. "I have ventured to talk to you at some length on this matter, because when China begins to re-establish herself, as she surely will before long, I am certain China and Canada will become increasingly associated in many matters of trade and commerce in the future."

"I have often said before, and I say it again, that after living a good many years in the East, I am clear the countries of the East are no longer unchanging, but are changing very fast, and are more and more adopting modern and Western methods, which will enable them to compete successfully in peaceful enterprise with all other nations of the world. Japan is surely a brilliant example of this change in recent years. And Canada seems to me peculiarly well placed to obtain much advantage from this development which I foresee."

"I am already, as you will realize, a confirmed optimist with regard to Canada, and if I am an optimist now, what will my sentiments be in five years? I hope—I am confident—that my anticipations in regard to the future will be thoroughly justified and feel sure that if we all work together in a spirit of co-operation throughout the country to improve and develop its national life, the coming years are full of hope and promise for the people of Canada. "We are this year celebrating the sixtieth anniversary of the passing of the act of Confederation of this great Dominion. I hope it may prove a memorable year for the great step forward which we shall take in building up Canada a nation."

CHINA DESIRES TO AVOID BLOODSHED

In Cheng-sha, he says, there was optimism for the foreigners relied on the nationalist sentiment at the time of the occupation. There was content, organized their labor unions and finally brought about a situation where it would be impossible for a Chinese to live without belonging to some labor organization. China how-ever, he thought, was hurting herself more than she was hurting those she called her enemies.

REAL STRIFE INTERNALLY

The real strife in China was between the Nationalists and the Communists, said Mr. Bugge. The unions were Communist, he declared. The Nationalists wished to vindicate China with the foreign powers. The unions did not care. Their policy was one of independence, they wished to be left strictly alone. It was at present a struggle between the unions, actually, and the Government plus the army. These were the representatives of the two main factions in Chinese politics.

MANY DISTURBANCES

The economic evolution in China has been a far-reaching effect, Mr. Bugge believes, and there will be many disturbances, although not necessarily any further bloodshed. China being an agricultural country, primarily, found the great proportion of her people clamoring for low farm rentals. The cities thought mainly of low food prices. So it was the economic factions clashed.

FOREIGN WORK ENDS

There was not a single mission school operating in Hunan province now, says Mr. Bugge. All the splendid work which was being done by the Yale Mission, has ceased. Hospitals have been closed; banks are falling; business houses are going into bankruptcy. There is economic turmoil. As yet China does not realize what she will have to suffer for her anguish has not yet begun. China can drive every foreigner into the sea when she so desires, Mr. Bugge declares, not by the power of her soldiers but by the immense power of her boycott—she can literally starve undesirable out of the country, but she will suffer economically in consequence.

External treatments seldom banish Piles and for the very good reason that the cause is inside—a bad circulation of blood. Piles are not inflammations and bowel walls weakened.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation and restore healthy blood to the raw, sensitive membranes. Internal treatment is one safe method. Ointments and other external treatments cannot reach the cause.

J. S. Leonhardt, M.D., a specialist, met at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He found it. He called it Hem-Roid. Prescription HEM-ROID, and it has proven successful in thousands of cases—so successful that now HEM-ROID is sold in every drug store and carries a money-back guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at MacFarlane Drug Company, where price if you are dissatisfied.

Calgary, April 11.—Investigation to establish responsibility for the collision which occurred between the passenger train and the freight train at Ponoka, Alta., will be conducted to-day, according to General Superintendent Cameron of the Alberta division.

The collision happened in the worst blizzard of the winter which has been sufficient to freeze the places.

The storm was general over the southern part of the province, especially east from Taber, necessitating the use of snow ploughs on the railway. The storm came out of the northwest and covered Western Saskatchewan and Eastern Alberta. The wreck of the freight train happened at the height of the storm.

It is not to be forgotten that high steamship rates have crippled the off-shore demand, Japan, the major foreign lumber consumer, has been lying at ease on the forecast that ocean freights would not hold, this conviction coming in bids of a dollar less for May than for April lifting.

It is to be regretted that in lumber industry from loss to profit some minor fluctuations seems to be a dollar under the prevailing price. Obviously, the danger of accumulating unshipped stocks on the mill properties and docks for lack of steamship space must have some bearing on the off-shore market, and has helped prevented the market from following the strong domestic lead.

The vessel should arrive here about 4 o'clock from Seattle, sailing again about 6, after picking up passengers and mail here. Among those boarding on here will be the three Russian envoys who were found on the President Cleveland, which arrived here this morning.

intercoastal buyers are realising the upward trend of prices resulting from decreased production. Their idea is that curtailment, a general failure in the past, will not be repeated. The price of lumber is seriously affected for long. In this view even transit shippers do not assent as they are paying top prices for lumber. The lumber is delivered into the Atlantic territory during the next sixty to ninety days, and their faith in stronger recovery seems to be back of current willingness to load their ships at premium rates.

It was forecast early this year that the intercoastal trade, increasing annually since the opening of the Panama Canal, would bring a 2,000 per cent. annual consumer, due for a downward reversal in volume because of the normal-plus housing boom. The forecast was based on loans for speculative house building. However, a sizzling market, which not 1848 fir items, a price that disappeared with the idea of March. There is also the angle of mill-distracting in the railway car material trade that is giving wholesalers some anxious hours.

Retailers in the Middle West are not yet fully conscious of the exact situation here. They are complaining of strong prices, at the same time urging their coast connections to name a lower figure. This is difficult to do, as the market is firm to higher. The number of yards and shod items in the average mixed car sold to-day exceeds that of any previous season, and few rail mills can afford to name a lower price in the market, no longer regulated by a buyer, has placed the mills in an independent position, so that they are able to hand-pick their business and satisfy them.

There have been many months since they enjoyed this advantage.

BUILDERS MUST SECURE PERMITS BEFORE BUILDING

New Zoning Provisions Now in Effect, it is Explained at City Hall

Set Back of Residence From Street Line and Other Dimensions Provided

Anxious to co-operate with home builders and others who are planning early construction the city has issued a notice that it is willing to explain fully the provisions of the zoning by-law, which are now in force, to any desiring a clearer understanding.

Building permits are necessary before construction is commenced, and the city will enforce this rule strictly as a means of protection to those who might be affected by a last-minute rush of construction to avoid the new zoning regulations.

In some instances within the last few weeks infractions of the provisions have occurred through the neglect of builders to ascertain the changes in the regulations. To obviate infractions from this source the City Building Inspector, James Barf, is empowered to withhold permits that mean a breach of the new provisions of the by-law, and to explain all points not fully clear in the minds of those applying for permit.

The building permit must be obtained before any work is done at the site, it is emphasized, as only in this way can uniform protection be given to all classes of occupancy.

Applications for permits must be accompanied by a block plan. Residential building may occupy twenty-five per cent of the lot, with necessary buildings a further five per cent. The set back of the front of the building line and the space at the sides must conform to the new provisions. The set back is placed at a minimum of twenty-five feet, and must conform to the average line of the buildings.

The regulations affect only new work, no alteration or change being required in premises now standing, or for which permits have already been granted.

B.C. WILL STAGE FINE EXHIBIT AT POULTRY CONGRESS

Barrow Plans to Aid Exhibitors at World-wide Show in Ottawa This Year

While preparations are proceeding for British Columbia's exhibit in the World's Poultry Congress in Ottawa next summer, the Provincial Department of Agriculture is arranging to have entries from this Province staged in adequate fashion.

TO ARRANGE DISPLAYS

The Government will pay the cost of arranging the exhibit at Ottawa along the best lines, Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, stated today. He added that to expect the Government to pay the cost of moving commercial exhibits by private poultry concerns from here to the Congress was not fair. Reports in mainland papers that the Government had spent $18,000 to move British Columbia livestock exhibits to the last Toronto Winter Fair, and now was proposing to spend only $1,000 on the Poultry Congress were denied by the Minister. He pointed out that only $400 had been spent on the Winter Fair, while the sum of $18,000 was the full amount voted by the Legislature recently to cover all expenses for outside exhibitions during the present year.

HASTEN ARRANGEMENTS

Meanwhile officials of the Department of Agriculture are urging poultrymen to hasten arrangements for their exhibits in Ottawa. All exhibitors will be expected to notify the department of their plans by April 15 so that proper arrangements can be made for the Congress. So far sixty-six birds have been entered from the Province.

Mr. Barrow will go to Kelowna on Tuesday to confer with fruit growers on the appointment of a chairman of the board which will control the marketing of the Okanagan fruit crop this year.

Series of Thefts By Band of Boys

St. Thomas, Ont., April 11 — A series of mysterious thefts and ship-breaking which had puzzled the police and residents of Rodney for some time was solved in police court here when five school boys, ranging in age from fourteen to eighteen years, appeared in court charged with robberies.

The tale told to the magistrate by the boys read like a Western dime novel story. The boys, in pleading guilty, related how they had banded themselves together in a secret gang and adopted the name of "The Hawk-Eared Five." The band had been organized, they said, with a view to staging burglaries with the intention of creating a mystery in the village and to receive a thrill.

As the thefts by the boys were mostly of a trifling nature and the fact that he believed they had entered into the whole thing in a spirit of adventure rather than from criminal intent, the magistrate suspended sentence.

Steel Knives

If steel knives are left to soak in hot water, they may lose their handles.

Commemorated May 18;
Children's Contests

Goodwill Day is observed in the schools of many countries of the world on May 18 of each year, commemorating the first Hague Peace Conference. British Columbia has observed Goodwill Day for the past two years, through the efforts of the Provincial Parent-Teacher Federation, which have been approved by the Department of Education.

This year the programme will be prepared by a committee of the B.C. Teachers' Federation, working in co-operation with the goodwill committee of the Parent-Teacher Federation. The programme will consist of suggestions, lists of books, pictures, etc., from which principals and teachers may prepare their own programme. There will be, for example, a paragraph on arbitration, showing what Canada can do for peace in this way. Details of the programme will be published in the April number of The B.C. Teacher, the teachers' magazine.

Each year the programme has contained a practical feature, as well as theory. In 1925 this took the form of a Goodwill Society, of which the children become members. As a result, 12,000 school children's signatures were sent to be deposited in the Hague Peace Palace. This brought much favorable notice to British Columbia, not only on this continent, but in Europe.

This year the practical feature is a unique one—a doll-dressing contest for girls, and a boat-making contest for boys. Dolls and boats to represent the various nations of the world. These are to be sent to the goodwill secretary by May 10, and on May 19 to 21 an international doll and boat festival will be held in the David Spencer Limited, store, Vancouver, where all the entries will be on exhibit, and will be judged.

John Kyle, superintendent of technical education, will be one of the judges of the boats, and Miss McLennan, provincial supervisor of home economics, will be one of the judges of the dolls. The prize list will be excellent, as already a number of prizes have been promised.

It is hoped that the rural schools, and those of the interior will join heartily in the contests. The schools have been classified in the contest rules, so that the smaller schools will not be competing with the larger ones.

95,000 Gallons of Marvelube
Needed to Supply
the Immediate Requirements of the Prairie Provinces

On Tuesday, March 29th, the largest single shipment of Motor Oil that Canada ever saw left our Sarnia Refinery for delivery to points in Southern Saskatchewan—twenty-eight cars, the whole shipment totalling 95,000 gallons.

Trainload shipments are rare in the oil business, and when you stop to think that this trainload carried nothing but Marvelube—a product that came on the market exactly a year ago—you can form some idea of the extremely high quality that must have gone into this oil to make it so quickly the most popular oil in Canada.

Success such as Marvelube has attained is perhaps the most striking proof that can be offered of the truth of our big claims for its superiority as a lubricant. To understand why we are shipping Marvelube by the trainload and to appreciate the common-sense which has led 200,000 motorists across Canada to adopt Marvelube, you need to try it in your own crank-case. Do that today—and see for yourself what a wonderful oil it is. Note the improved operation, the smoother, cooler running of your motor, the splendid condition of the oil when it comes out of your car at the end of a 500 mile run.

Another great advantage that you cannot immediately check—but which will show itself as you continue using Marvelube—is the protection it affords the working parts of your engine, resulting in lower upkeep costs and longer life for your car.
